

Control Of Old Jerusalem Lost By Jews

Dishevelled and worn, beaten Jewish defenders of the Old City of Jerusalem are shown plodding dejectedly past Arab victors after formal surrender by the Jews of their positions in the historic section of Palestine. U.N. truce arrangements did not come soon enough to save the ancient city for the Jews.

Britain Invites Russia To Join Pact On Germany

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Secretary Bevin told the Commons today Britain still hopes to bring Russia into the four-power agreement on the future of Germany.

Bevin said Britain had approved recommendations for a federal government in western Germany, western power occupation for an indefinite period, and international control of the industrial Ruhr Valley.

6 NATIONS CONFERRED

The recommendations were put forward by a conference among the United States, Britain, France and the Benelux countries: Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. The recommendations were made public Monday.

A Moscow radio commentary charged today that the recommendations meant the west is converting western Germany into "a permanent Anglo-American military base." In Berlin Russians and Communists urged the Germans to resist the plan, saying "They're taking away the Ruhr."

Earlier, official British sources had said they expected a three-power agreement soon opening the way for the United States, Britain and France to resume allocating war reparations to Russia from western Germany.

No allocations to Russia of dismantled war plants, of which she gets 25 per cent under the Potsdam agreement, have been made from the three western zones since mid-1946.

France and Britain have continued deliveries under allocations made before that time, but the United States has made none since last December, when the Big Four foreign ministers' London conference on Germany and Austria collapsed.

U.S. Approves London Proposals For Creation Of Western Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Marshall announced today United States acceptance of the London conference proposals for western Germany.

Marshall called the London plan a "major step" toward the solution of the problems of Germany.

It provides for a federal government to give western Germany a measure of "home rule" and pledges occupying powers not to withdraw their forces except by mutual agreement. There are pledges also to prevent rearmament of Germany.

Marshall told a press conference the United States believes the "London program will stand the test of experience" and contribute substantially to economic recovery and political stability on the continent.

Although Marshall announced American acceptance, some members of Congress are questioning whether that can be done without congressional approval.

The London agreements were completed 10 days ago and made public here and in Europe Monday.

The British cabinet has approved the agreement, but France has not yet approved. There are indications that difficulties may develop in the French Assembly.

Marshall sought in his press conference remarks to reassure the French.

TELLS OF GUARANTEES

He said in response to questions that the United States approves and accepts the London decisions specifically on the basis that they do provide sufficient guarantees against a military resurgence of Germany.

The questions raised in France are whether there are sufficient guarantees against a rearmament of Germany.

The German problem, Marshall said, involves a careful balance between the needs of European reconstruction and the dangers of possible restoration of the might of Germany by rebuilding some of its basic industries.

He said he thought the London conference had reached such a balance, but he said the feeling of the French people is very understandable because they have suffered terribly as a result of German military action.

Mexico Cuts Rail Fares

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The government-owned National Railways announced today that first-class fares will be cut 40 per cent from Sept. 14 to 25 and from Nov. 29 to Jan. 21, 1949, to encourage vacation travel.

Isley May Write Criminal Code Ban On Crime Comics

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Isley said today in the Commons that the Criminal Code may be amended to prevent the publication of the crime comic books in Canada.

He said he had drafted an amendment to the code on the matter and he planned to submit it to the cabinet as soon as possible.

He was replying to E. D. Fulton, P.C., Kamloops, who recently started a drive to have publication of the crime comics banned.

Mr. Isley said he agreed publication of the crime comic books was "a shocking abuse of the press."

"But I am afraid it is legal," he added.

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP) — The bodies of a mother and her two sons were found by police early today in a blood-spattered farmhouse at Kaleden Corner, near here.

The dead: Mrs. Robert D. Mutch (age unavailable); sons, Robert, 18, and Grant, 14, years old.

A daughter, Yvonne, 20, is in hospital here in serious condition. Police said search had been started for the dead woman's husband, missing from his home. Details of the slayings were not immediately available.

Lewis (background), president of the United Mine Workers of America, sits down to bargain with operators of all coal-producing areas in the U.S., including Joseph E. Flood Defence Line Gives In 2 Places As Big Test Nears VANCOUVER (CP) — Two minor breaks occurred overnight on the Fraser Valley's flood defence line and today flood workers were preparing for the severest test. Tonight's spring tide will rise to a high of 14.4 feet.

Flagging ranks will be augmented by 500 fresh troops drawn from Manitoba and Saskatchewan permanent force units, scheduled to arrive by air from Calgary late today.

Long-suffering Pitt Meadows succumbed briefly to 18 days of watery assault, with the dike at the junction of the Pitt and Fraser Rivers cracking under the strain. The breach is termed "not serious" by flood control authorities. Flame throwers are being called into the fight to clear away brush from dike-tops.

A second break was reported at the primary dike on Westham Island, near the mouth of the Fraser. Secondary dikes are holding.

TRACK WASHED OUT

On the Columbia River at Trail, 230 miles east of Vancouver, 50 feet of track was washed out by rising waters. Officials expect repairs will take at least three days, during which time engineers have predicted a further rise of three feet.

Flood controller J. P. Coates has called for "desperate measures" to hold the dikes. Several small breaks occurred during the night, and 40,000 sandbags are being rushed to the area by plane. Two complete 25-bed hospital units will be flown in today.

The Columbia at this point is two feet higher than the ponds behind the dikes, and a major break-through would flood a tremendous acreage.

MISSION GAUGE 24.46

Along the Fraser major dikes are still holding, but the gauge at Mission today read 24.46, just short of the highest flood crest.

On the advice of United States flood control experts, who made a five-hour inspection of the Chilliwack-Rosedale area, 65 miles east of Vancouver, quarried rock will be used instead of sandbags to strengthen the Rosedale dikes.

Weather officials predict little relief from the five-day heat wave which has greatly increased run-off from melting snowpacks. A northerly flow of air is expected to result in slightly lower temperatures, but hot weather will continue to visit most parts of the province.

To Be Czech President

KLEMENT GOTTFELD

Zapotocky Premier Of Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE (AP) — The executive committee of the Communist party proposed Communist Premier Klement Gottwald today as the only candidate for president of Czechoslovakia, to succeed Eduard Benes. It proposed Communist Antonin Zapotocky for the premiership.

The proposals were made to the Communist-ruled National Front coalition. The announcement, carried by the Prague radio, insured Gottwald's election by acclamation in parliament Monday. He has been acting with all executive powers since Benes resigned two days ago.

Zapotocky, trades union head and deputy premier, is a staunch Communist who rose to the top during the February coup d'etat in which the Communists seized power.

The new constitution, which Benes refused to sign, became the law of Czechoslovakia today.

Duplessis Calls General Election For July 28

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Maurice Duplessis announced today the dissolution of the Quebec Legislature and the calling of an election for July 28. He made the announcement at conclusion of a brief cabinet meeting.

During the Legislature session prorogued last April 1 party standing were:

Union Nationale, 52; Liberals, 33; Bloc Populaire, one; Nationalist, one; Independents, three; vacant, one.

Charlevoix-Saguenay County, Union Nationale-held, will be split for the coming election, increasing the number of electoral divisions to 52.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Rain forced postponement today of the middleweight title fight between Rocky Graziano and Tony Zale, scheduled tonight at Ruppert Stadium. The fight will be held tomorrow night in the same ring.

Flood Situation Along Columbia Growing More Critical Each Hour

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Columbia cut deeper today into soggy dikes on the Pacific Northwest's far-flung flood front. The situation grew more critical by the hour.

A new break-through in the lower valley of the Columbia drowned Puget Island. Other earthen barriers along the swollen river's 100-mile stretch run from Portland to the Pacific were getting softer, saturated by 21 days of water assault. United States army engineers called their condition "very critical."

Here is the grim picture for the northwestern states:

Thirty dead, Vanport, Ore., war housing city near Portland, yielded two more bodies Tuesday. This brought the total of known dead to four in the Memorial Day disaster which wiped out the city of 18,700.

Two Sides Agree To Halt Battle For Four Weeks

CAIRO (AP) — Arabs and Jews announced today unconditional acceptance of a four-week truce in the Palestine war.

The government of Israel in Tel Aviv issued a communique saying it accepted the nine-point proposal of the United Nations mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte.

In Amman, a key capital of the Arab war, Trans-Jordan Foreign Minister Fawzi Pasha Mulki announced all Arab states accepted the proposal to cease firing at 9 a.m. Friday, Israel time (11 Thursday night, P.D.T.).

No strings were attached to the acceptance, he said.

United Nations' officials at Lake Success were elated at the success of the mediation efforts, but delegates still urged caution. They pointed out that any incident between now and the cease-fire hour might upset the appeal.

There has been no official word from Count Bernadotte himself. Observers said even under an armistice there might be many isolated instances of sniping or small-scale guerrilla warfare.

Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok's announcement of the Israeli acceptance said no conditions were attached, but Israel asked certain technical modifications in the mediator's proposal with regard to immigration, war material and supplies to besieged Jerusalem's Jews.

communicate said Jews, 1,000 strong, attacked at Bab el Wad gorge Tuesday night. The gorge is astride the supply road from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem. The bulletin said the Jews were repulsed, leaving 56 killed and a large quantity of ammunition on the field. The fighting continued until just before dawn today.

Jews still battled Egyptians in the Isdud area on the coastal route to Tel Aviv, and Jews and Arabs fought in the northern Nablus-Tulkarm-Jenin triangle, held by the Arabs. Some Egyptians have landed troops from the sea in rescue attempts.

War Continues As Deadline Nears

In the twilight period between acceptance and effectiveness of the truce, fighting continued in the Holy Land.

An Iraqi communique issued in Baghdad said Iraqi army units attacked Jewish positions in Kakul village, Samaria. Every building in the village was said to be damaged.

NO TROOP IMPORTATIONS

Count Bernadotte listed his nine truce terms as:

1. No fighting personnel, in-during the truce.

2. The mediator to exercise his

Many firefighters have driven themselves into exhaustion trying to check onrushing flames. Here, a man overcome by smoke and exhaustion, is given artificial respiration.

Thousands of feet of hose are being used in the fight. Here, new supplies are checked and rolled for trips by plane to fire areas. Men work feverishly to have supplies ready for return of shuttling planes. Twenty-five women, 50 children have been evacuated by air.

Canoes are vital item, rushing supplies to the fire front. Fire fighters often are trapped and have to escape by canoe. Many had to jump in the lake when flames reached shore.

C.C.F. Wins Commons Seats In Vancouver, Ontario

By CANADIAN PRESS
C.C.F. victories in by-elections in Vancouver Centre and in Ontario riding have cost the Liberals two more House of Commons seats.

The Socialist successes Tuesday in the traditionally Liberal strongholds came just a day after the C.C.F. had risen to official opposition in the Ontario Legislature. Last week the C.C.F. won the federal by-election in the British Columbia riding of Yale, long held by the Conservatives.

Winning candidates Tuesday were Rodney Young, 38-year-old University of B.C. law student, in Vancouver Centre, and Welsh-born labor organizer Arthur Williams, 52, in Ontario County constituency, which surrounds the automobile manufacturing city of Oshawa. Williams sat in the Ontario Legislature 1943-45; the by-election was Young's first political venture.

Both led their nearest opponents by roughly 2,000 votes.

PARTY STANDING

The Commons standing now is: Liberals 124, Progressive Conservatives 66, C.C.F. 31, Social Credit 13, Independent 4, Bloc Populaire 2, Independent Liberal 1, Independent Progressive Conservative 1, Independent C.C.F. 1, Union des Electeurs 1, vacant 1.

The Vancouver seat was left vacant last December with the appointment to the Senate of former Veterans' Minister Ian Mackenzie, who had represented the riding since 1930. The Ontario constituency seat became vacant with the death of W. E. N. Sinclair.

Both ridings had three-way contests, with the Liberals and Progressive Conservatives opposing.

Complete returns from the 183 polls in Vancouver Centre gave Young 9,835 votes; Ralph Campbell, Liberal, 7,570, and Lyle Jesty, Progressive Conservative, 5,242.

Complete returns from Ontario ridings' 150 polls gave Williams 10,301 votes, compared with 8,324 for Lyman Gifford, Liberal, and 7,555 for Mayor Frank McCallum of Oshawa, Progressive Conservative. The riding includes the automobile-manufacturing city of Oshawa, east of Toronto, and surrounding communities.

Young, a former railroad and shipyard worker, has been a C.C.F. member 15 years. He joined the army in 1940 and fought in Italy and western Europe.

WORKED IN MINES
Williams worked in coal mines in his native Tredegar, Wales, before coming to Canada in 1929. One of his friends in Wales was Aneurin Bevan, now health minister in Great Britain's Labor government.

STATEMENT BY WILLIAMS

In Oshawa, Williams said: "This is a victory for a party, not for any one man. I am very proud that I am a member of the C.C.F. and proud of what it stands for."

He said he would bear the people's cause to the seat of government "as their servant and their voice."

"The day of monopoly capitalism is drawing to a close and the age of Socialism and peace for all men is at hand."

"May I be worthy of the faith and confidence of the C.C.F., the movement of the mass of the Canadian people."

In Ottawa, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said the federal by-election results in Ontario riding and Vancouver Centre, coupled with last week's returns in Yale—all three returned C.C.F. candidates—were a "fair sampling of the trend across Canada."

He said the C.C.F. was "very pleased and very delighted" with the election of C.C.F. members

IT'S TOUGH WORKING ON THE DIKES—Men and boys are sweating it out on the dikes of the Fraser and Columbia Rivers during this spell of torrid weather. Troops are lending a hand, but the residents of the areas are doing a great job. In the Fraser Valley alone they have filled over 500,000 sandbags and a call is now being circulated in the province for more sacks. It doesn't matter whether they are potato sacks, flour sacks, or coal sacks, they will serve the purpose. People are asked to leave them at the Bay Street Armories or any police station.

Mackenzie Suggests More Senators West Of Great Lakes

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Ian Mackenzie, Lib., British Columbia, moved in the Senate Tuesday night that a special committee be set up to examine, among other things, the present allocation of senatorial representation.

DENY COMMUNISM

YANCOUVER (CP)—C.C.F. spokesmen today denied allegations by A. L. Smith, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Calgary West, that Rodney Young, newly elected C.C.F. member for Vancouver Centre, is a Communist.

Mr. Smith made the charge in the Commons Tuesday night. C.C.F. provincial president Mrs. D. G. Steeves said Mr. Young is an "anti-Communist."

Colin Cameron, past president, described the Vancouver Centre member as "a strong opponent" of Communist fellow-travelers. He termed Mr. Smith's charges "most ridiculous."

Mr. Young was not available for comment. In his brief reference in the Commons to Mr. Young, Mr. Smith predicted his party would have "difficulty" with him. He observed also that the election of Mr. Young was an indication that the C.C.F. was joining with the Communists.

"That is completely false," retorted John Probe, C.C.F. Regina.

Fire Psychiatrists, Member Tells Gregg

OTTAWA (CP)—John Blackmore, S.C., Lethbridge, Alta., asked in the Commons Tuesday that the Veterans' affairs department rid itself of "pestilential psychiatrists."

Making an appeal on behalf of two war veterans with grievances, he advised the department to "clear out these people (psychiatrists) as you would clear vermin out of a house."

He spoke on behalf of Sholto B. McLellan of North Vancouver, army veteran of the First World War, and Frank W. Connorton of Vancouver, navy man in the Second World War. Both, said Mr. Blackmore, appeared to be victims of serious miscarriages of justice in connection with wartime disability pensions.

In a recital of their case histories to the House, the member suggested departmental psychiatrists had been in part responsible for a low disability pension rating given Connorton. He asked for reports on the two from Veterans' Minister Gregg.

Fighter Crash Kills Officer

RIVERS, Man. (CP)—One person was killed when a Royal Canadian Air Force single-seater Mustang fighter plane crashed five miles northwest of Beulah, Man., near here, late Tuesday afternoon.

Killed in the crash was Flt. Lt. Stanley N. Knight of Brandon. He is survived by his wife. Civilian witnesses of the crash said the plane was flying at a high altitude when they heard a loud bang, followed by silence. Next they saw was the plane nosing to earth.

Air force officials said Knight was flying a routine training flight from the Rivers Joint Air Schools.

Sexton Seeking Clergy In Britain

SAFFRON WALDEN, Essex, Eng. (CP)—Rt. Rev. Harold Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia, wants 11 young British Anglican clergy, "pioneers and ready for hard work," for vacancies in "a man's country."

The bishop, now in Britain for the Lambeth Conference opening next month, said today the terms are £450 ($1,800) a year, plus offerings, fees, expenses and a free house.

"There is no other such country in the world for a clergyman Monday," the bishop said. "With its lakes and rivers full of salmon, British Columbia is a man's country."

They would consider the rules and regulations, the practice and procedure of the Senate. In addition, they would examine the "many and various proposals" made from time to time for the reallocation and more effective distribution of the functions and responsibilities of the Upper House.

After consideration and examination, the committee would recommend what revision could be made in the rules and regulations to enable the Senate to perform definite and constructive functions.

It was Senator Mackenzie's night. Earlier he had read a list of 29 questions about oils and fats which he wished the government to answer.

One of them—Is the government aware of any member of either House of Parliament who is identified with the promotion of the production of oleomargarine in Canada?—drew a protest from Senator William Euler, Lib., Ontario.

Sensor Euler, whose legislative efforts to legalize sale of margarine in Canada have met with no success in the last three sessions of Parliament, rose and asked if the question referred to him.

If it did, he denied having any interest in the butter substitute other than seeing that the poorer people of Canada received a fair deal.

Sensor Mackenzie thanked him for clarifying the matter and apologized for the misunderstanding created by his question.

ORGANIZATION PAID OFF

FEDERAL LIBERALS AND FEDERAL Progressive Conservatives will probably try to nail down some specific reason—apart from the obvious—why the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation's candidate landed up at the top of the poll in Yale, in Vancouver Centre, and in the Ontario riding. We feel disposed to offer at least one because we have alluded to it in these columns several times in recent years. It is quite simple: The followers of Mr. Coldwell—this also goes for Mr. Winch—preach the philosophy of the C.C.F., seven days a week and seven nights a week for the purpose of selling it to as many people as possible. In other words, when a call to the polls is sounded the Socialists are ready, ready with well-rehearsed and perfectly-understood campaign material. It is not necessary to explain how well this technique has paid off. Mr. Bracken particularly must be realizing that Toryism in its unchanged national concept of public appeal in these changing times is woefully at fault. And the Liberal Party of Mr. Mackenzie King obviously is feeling the cool breezes from Vancouver Centre and from the Ontario federal riding. The loss of these two seats is a serious blow to the government and it would be foolish to ignore that important fact.

What must be plain to both major federal parties as they contemplate yesterday's C.C.F. victories is that the electors—or a substantial element of them—have grown weary of high-pressure political salesmanship during the relatively short period of a specific campaign. During the last week or so in Vancouver Centre, for example, every available piece of "horse, artillery and foot" had been thrown into the fray with nothing strikingly original in the quality or variety of ammunition. It is likely that hundreds of the new population acquired by Canada's third largest city since 1945 were either unversed in, or had forgotten, the basic philosophy of federal Liberalism. The sad state of repair in which Mr. Bracken finds his party fences, of course, is more obvious; the leader of the Progressive Conservative Party cannot expect better than a "show" in future contests where the anti-Socialist vote is split. A "place"—especially if representation in the House of Commons is changed—will be cold comfort to Mr. Mackenzie King. And those old-line party "managers" who glibly predict an "in-the-bag" result in advance had better try to look into the right bag first.

FORWARD STEP

A DEFINITE STEP TOWARDS IMPROVEMENT of the Palestine situation is seen in today's agreement by Arabs and Jews to accept a four-week truce proposed by Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator. It is expected the cease-fire order will become effective Friday morning, thus permitting a lengthy breathing spell during which the whole problem may be reviewed without the accompaniment of armed strife. The ultimate solution, of course, is still far from achievement. The apparently irreconcilable claims of the warring sides must undergo considerable negotiation before a permanent and peaceful program may be formed. But today's development carries a measure of hope. At least the Arab states and the new state of Israel can agree to stop killing while an effective answer is sought.

STRESSING THE WATER CASE

AFTER APPROXIMATELY ONE WEEK of hot summer weather, the engineering departments of Saanich and Oak Bay have found it necessary to re-apply the watering restrictions which have been put into force in other years when heavy drains on the supply lowered pressure. This, of course, was not unexpected. It was to relieve such a condition and to integrate improvement for general good that the Greater Victoria Water Board scheme was initiated. In time the difficulty will be overcome.

Remedial work, however, will entail exceptionally heavy expenditure. Essential and costly development is of a nature which should command the close teamwork that can be achieved best through representation by all municipalities and the city on the metropolitan board. The door is still open to Oak Bay to enter the partnership approved by the other districts concerned. The present inadequacies of service, we suggest, underscore the desirability of such a move.

As the situation is at present, the city can meet its own needs. Oak Bay can get by with restrictions, and curtailment of use is an essential for Saanich. Oak Bay could, in the opinion of engineers, secure adequate pressure if it wished to install pumps—provided, of course, that such equipment could be obtained. But that would be a highly expensive remedy. Oak Bay will be money in pocket if it can avoid such installations and await the laying of a new, large main from the supply source to the municipality's bulk delivery point. No one is prepared to say when that project can be completed. Moreover, it is worthy of note that one of the objectives of a water board is to provide members with water at cost and then to look after other customers.

While common justice and economic considerations bespeak favorable consideration for Oak Bay, what the water board may decide in the way of priority projects will be a matter for it to decide when it has been appointed. The watering regulations which have been necessitated by the hot spell will, on the other hand, underscore for Oak Bay residents the arguments relative to the privileges and responsibilities entailed in membership in a metropolitan board.

CHALLENGING THE LAW?

CANADIAN CITIZENS WILL SHOW more than usual interest in a statement made by an official of the Canadian Seamen's Union, a Trades and Labor Council affiliate, which now is in its fifth day of strike against five Great Lakes shipping companies. He is quoted as saying that his union is "marshalling their forces for a showdown with law officers, if necessary." There can be only one result from this if Canada is to be governed by orderly democratic government rather than street gangs. The law must triumph.

The C.S.U. is the seamen's organization whose president, Mr. J. A. Pat Sullivan, resigned last year in protest against what he called Communist domination of the union. The present strike (there have been one or two a year for the last few years) was called by the C.S.U. to force the shipping lines to sign a contract with it. The companies have refused to deal with the union on the grounds that it is Communist-led. Members of the rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, led by ex-C.S.U. President Sullivan, have been operating the ships, but the situation has been marked by picket lines, police protection, and outbreaks of violence at several lake points.

It is not to be expected that striking lake seamen would comport themselves like guests at a garden party. It is a rough life and it demands rough men. But the methods of incitement against the law which are employed by the C.S.U. leaders seem to indicate that the charges of Communist domination are not without foundation. No Communist agitator is happier than when he sees crowds of civilians battling with police as a result of his efforts. To oppose, and if possible smash, "capitalistic law" is his aim, and calling for "a showdown with law officers" is one of his methods.

Hitler used street gangs as an important part of his tactics. They lost out in the Munich putsch, but they won in Berlin and put their leader in the saddle. The Bolshevik street gangs, on a wider scale, also took over a whole country and have been in control ever since. Those who would wish to use the same methods in Canada should be made to realize that the people of this country will not stand for it.

ENCOURAGING VOICE IN CHINA

STUDENTS OF THE CHINESE SCENE who have supplemented reading and theory with actual observation on the ground have generally agreed that headway made by the so-called Communists of the north has been gained by translating into actuality much of the reform program which the Kuomintang has on paper but hesitates to implement. On the basis of this opinion, the news that the Republic's new vice-president, Gen. Li Tsung Jen, is pressing vigorously for real reform with a view to changing China from a land ridden by a party system in which he still finds traces of feudalism to one of true democratic character, is encouraging.

Gen. Li's method seems logical. He proposes, in the words of a recent news item, "that the government fight Communist fire with fire by putting into practice a land distribution program, which now is the main Communist weapon in winning over the peasantry." The importance of such a step in a land that is preponderantly agricultural cannot be missed. The average Chinese wants peace and he wants land. If the government faction withholds the latter, it is logical for him to transfer his affections to the more radical element, the leaders of which are admittedly Communists. This is probably an over-simplification of an extremely complex situation. The proposals of Gen. Li, however, suggest a straightforward means of achieving a degree of political and economic health which the country has not known in recent history. They have, moreover, the additional virtues of furnishing outsiders who wish to be friends of Nationalist China with points that can be understood and supported on an honestly democratic footing.

FRANCHISE IN ACTION

MORE POLLING DAYS STILL FACE Newfoundlanders, who have eliminated commission rule but must choose between responsible government and confederation with Canada. Neither of the latter two possibilities has received the required 51 per cent majority, and another vote, scheduled for July, must be held to decide between them. Whichever way the balloting goes, further voting will then have to be arranged to choose representatives either to an independent Newfoundland government or to provincial and Dominion legislative bodies. Responsible government received 45 per cent of last week's vote, confederation obtained 40 per cent, and the commission form of government 15. The distribution of that 15 per cent among the other two possibilities will determine Newfoundland's future course. Canadians may yet welcome the island as a tenth province.

This Canada

Royal Bank of Canada Letter

CANADA'S GREAT STORE of natural resources is not something locked away in a vault for misers to gloat about. It is a treasury of material things to be turned into useful commodities by our skill and energy.

He is, however, a wise man who takes stock every once in a while to see how his inventory stands, and to learn whether he is making the best use of what he has.

In 1945 our net value of primary production was $2,566 million. After processing these commodities in our factories, we exported goods to the amount of $3,218 million. This represents the extent to which we were able to exchange goods of Canadian production for goods made elsewhere.

IT IS NOT ANY ONE resource, however big it may be, that gives Canada importance and makes her what she is today, but the complementary nature of her resources and the "wholeness" they give her economy.

Canada has, per head of population, more coal and lignite reserves, more potential water power, and more arable and other cultivated land than any other country. She is second in her reserves of iron ore, and fourth in pasture land. A few representative figures may be interesting. The potential water power per head in the leading 32 countries is 0.16 horsepower; in Canada it is 2.27 horsepower. The iron ore per head in all countries is 24.6 tons; in Canada it is 217 tons. The arable and other cultivated land per head is 1.30 acres in all countries; in Canada it is 5.04 acres.

THERE EMERGES from this survey cause for general satisfaction. Based upon the wealth of their natural resources, Canadians enjoy command of goods and services, of horsepower per person, of food, housing, comforts, leisure and entertainment which cannot be beaten anywhere in the world. This has been achieved without surrender of independent personality, without regimentation or government bossism.

Canada has a fair share of the world's 5,000 million acres of forests. Our forests cover a vast belt from 600 to 1,300 miles wide right across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific. This forest land constitutes 38 per cent of our land area. It bears 130 species of trees, of which 33 are conifers.

The leading five metallic minerals produced in Canada last year were gold, copper, nickel, zinc and lead, valued at $360 million; the leading four non-metallics were coal, asbestos, petroleum and natural gas, valued at $137 million; and in addition there were clay products and other structural material valued at $73 million. The total mineral production was valued at $619 million. Canada is also rich in non-metallic minerals.

AGRICULTURE IS, of course, Canada's leading primary industry, furnishing a direct livelihood to about one-quarter of the people and providing raw materials for many manufactures. There are different phases of the industry: the Maritimes with their emphasis on products other than grains, Ontario and Quebec with their mixed farming, the Prairies with their overwhelming stake in wheat, and British Columbia with its fruits.

The area of arable lands can be estimated only approximately, because every decade sees an extension of the land found suitable for cultivation. The total agricultural land, present and potential, is given by Canada Year Book as 548,000 square miles, or 351 million acres.

The area given to grain in 1947 totaled 46.7 million acres, of which 24 million acres were given over to wheat. The wheat crop in the past 21 years yielded 7,862 million bushels, an average per year of 374 million bushels.

FISHING WAS PROBABLY the first industry carried on by Europeans in the New World. Long ago those stalwart adventurers caught their fish off Newfoundland and the Maritimes, cured or dried them, and sailed back to sell them in Europe. Today, two of the four great sea-fishing areas of the world border on the east and west coasts of Canada.

We have left to the last of our material resources one which is most important in the processing and development of all others: Hydro-electric power.

Since 1901, when hydro-electric installation was less than a quarter million horsepower, Canada's total has climbed to a million in 1911, three million in 1921, six and a half million in 1931, and to something over ten and a half million today. This latest figure represents only slightly more than 20 per cent of our recorded water power resources.

CANADA HAS RISEN to her present position of influence and prestige through the enterprise and character of her people and their energy in using intelligently the resources she has provided. By exercising foresight and using our heads and applying our capacity for work we can assure that this country shall have ample and diversified resources and industries for generations to come.

There are always impractical people interested in Promised Lands where everything will be easy and free. Canada, whose resources we have reviewed, comes as close as reasonable men want to a Promised Land, but she does not promise things free. All she says is that she will provide the raw materials in abundance if we will do the work needed to turn them into usable goods.

The Hat Is Not Becoming

Industry Goes The Second Mile

By JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE

THE GENERAL TREND of all industry is toward a wider participation of the worker in the profits of the operation. That is as it should be. That is as industry, generally, has decided it shall be. But that is not always how it appears to the worker.

The long belief that benefits are achieved only by coercion dies hard. It dies hard because there are more people with a definite interest in keeping it alive than there are people with a similar interest for discovering the facts.

Coercion, though a dangerous and costly weapon, can, of course, do something about wages and working conditions, if this is necessary. But it cannot induce ownership to make the second-mile investment that assures continuity of operation and jobs, safe against almost any eventuality. When the owners, voluntarily, limit their own returns in order to safeguard the continuity of the investment, they are taking this broader look. Let us use General Motors to illustrate this point.

not because they are any exception to the general rule, but because their graphically-presented annual report is just at hand.

LABOR'S CASE

The basis on which labor argues its case—the quite sound and reasonable basis—is that work-effort rates with capital investment in entitling it to returns. That would be even more sound if all effort and all investment were equal. But that is not quite so. For instance, continuity of operation provides both the assured return on investment and continuing wages. That would seem to be a common interest for which both might provide some measure of insurance.

Yet, as the figures show, only one party invested in this continuity in which both have an interest. Last year, ownership accepted as its return 3.8 cents for each dollar of receipts, while in 1941 it had taken 6.3 cents, or almost twice as much. This difference, which the owners voluntarily relinquished, they sowed back into the business; to protect their own investment, to be sure, but also to protect the interests of the worker to whom the job is as important as profits are to ownership.

While ownership was accepting half its accustomed return, a quarter more workers were earning almost twice as much in wages. They worked under better conditions. There were more safeguards. More training and new techniques made their jobs easier, safer and surer. Yet ownership was satisfied to pay 30 and 8-10 cents of every one of the total dollars received to its workers, and accept 3 and 8-10 cents for its own effort and thought and risk. The remainder, after 89 1/2 cents of every dollar had been absorbed by materials and taxes, went for worn-out plant and business expansion. On that record it seems that ownership, that provides so much for protection that benefits all, is indeed sharing the profits of industry.

Stimulating Plans For Scotland

News From Scotland

PROVIDED THAT sufficient support for the project is forthcoming, the Scottish Council (Development and Industry) will stage a Scottish Trade Fair in 1949. Last summer, the "Enterprise Scotland" exhibition, which ran concurrently with the Festival of Music and Drama in Edinburgh, demonstrated to the world Scottish industrial skill and craftsmanship. There the emphasis was on design. At the proposed fair, sales would be the main object.

In their appeal, the council point out that they have provided for Scotland a forum and voice by means of which opinion could be focused, expressed and brought to bear with the maximum effect. In the past year, the result had been to influence many policies, investigations, and decisions in a direction beneficial to Scotland.

The council would take a prominent part in the Scottish Economic Conference, set up by the Secretary of State to provide for an interchange of views from time to time between representatives of government departments, nationalized industries and official and semi-official bodies. The function of the conference, which was consultative, would not conflict with that of the council, which was active. They were an independent body whose sole aim was to promote the well-being of Scotland. Membership was representative of local authorities, chambers of commerce, trade unions, banks, corporate bodies, firms, and private individuals. Their strength was derived from independence, upheld and financed by voluntary Scottish support.

Valid Case

Toronto Globe and Mail

The arguments in favor of increasing Canada's military strength are unanswerable, whether we expect peace or war as the outcome of the present international crisis. Having a common frontier with Russia, we will inevitably be involved in the next war should it come—and not at our leisure, but perhaps in the very first phase. If we rely exclusively on powerful friends, our national independence will vanish. Mr. Truman, however, is acting in the reasonable belief that preparedness on the democratic side will bring peace, not war. If we look at the issue in that light, the case for adding to Canada's defenses is just as valid.

LONDON HOUSE

The establishment of a Scottish House in London is one of the items in the council's program for the current year. In addition, they are planning the development of an exhibitions policy and the addition to the council of a new technical section to assist Scottish industry in research and development activities and in undertaking new lines

Global Survey

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press News Analyst
(For Dewitt MacKenzie)

SOMETHING like a lull has fallen over the battlefields of the "cold war." But... Lenin taught the Communists, in the early days of the movement, that pursuing a policy was somewhat like climbing a mountain. He said they would encounter obstacles, and often have to change direction. The important thing was to keep the objective in sight.

The front is relatively quiet in Europe today. And as you read the transcript of Radio Moscow broadcasts, you are struck by the comparative absence of vitriol and vinegar and sulphuric comment. This silence is almost disquieting.

But it does not mean that the Russians have called off the dogs. It means simply that they have encountered the obstacle on the mountain. And, for the moment, they appear to be turning back on the path. In reality, they are merely looking for the new path, the next opportunity.

"WILL TO RESIST"

An American diplomat who has considerable new and first-hand knowledge of Europe and the Russians believes that the obstacle is what he calls "the will to resist."

It is a result, he says, of many different factors, all flowing, like small streams, into the main river. The collapse of Czechoslovakia, and the dramatization of it in the death of the well-loved Masaryk, was one. The successful rebuff of Finland to Russia was another. The Italian elections and the failure of the Greek guerrillas were others.

And the Marshall plan, of which this diplomat is an ardent proponent, is still another, in his view.

NEW UNITY

So he finds the people of Europe with a "will to resist" today which they did not have three months ago, or certainly six months ago. Russia now is confronted, he says, with a united western Europe. In some places, this unity has been formalized by political agreements. But even where no formal agreements exist, there is, he believes, a community of purpose, and that purpose is to resist the Communists from within and without.

What will come next is hard to discern. Russia's first objective must be to weaken that common will, or otherwise to get around it. For that reason, the supporters of the Marshall Plan are much worried about the effect, in Europe, of the present battle over proposed reductions in the amount of money authorized Moscow radio was quick to comment on that. It noted the "disappointment in England," and stressed the controversy and confusion that had been aroused elsewhere.

It is obvious that the Russians, blocked for the moment, are looking for a new route of attack. When they find it, the cold war will get hot again.

IN CONFORMITY

Washington Post

The United States Senate's action recently on displaced persons was in conformity with one of the great traditions of American life. It accorded with the responsibilities of world leadership this country has assumed. In doubling the meagre quota for admission of DPs set by the Wiley-Revercomb bill so that 200,000 may enter the United States during the next two years, the Senate took the indispensable first step toward final settlement of the DP problem and enabled this country to hold its head high in urging other nations to participate in such a settlement. Only when we have undertaken to do our fair share can we in good conscience demand the admission of European Jews to Palestine and the opening of gates elsewhere to other refugees.

PREPAREDNESS

Your Health Magazine

"I can't see why the government should appropriate more money for battleships," a certain well-known pacifist remarked to Mark Twain one day: "What's needed for peace is arbitration, not battleships. What do you think of it?"

"Reminds me of two big, mean-looking dogs that met one day down in Missouri," rejoined the great humorist. "They regarded each other in the most ferocious manner, each carefully sizing the other up, but neither daring to fight. Then one of them made the mistake of opening his mouth, showing that he had no teeth. And when he did that the other dog whipped the devil out of him."

Radically New Ford Will Appear This Month

Subject of speculation ever since the automobile industry returned to peacetime passenger car production, a radically new Ford will appear in dealer showrooms in major Canadian cities later this month.

Specifically designed to compete in the low price field, the 1949 Ford differs as sharply in its structural and operational features, and represents as great an advancement, appearance and comfort-wise, over previous corresponding models as did the larger cars introduced by Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., a few weeks ago.

The 1949 Fords will be introduced in two series. The Custom series includes the Tudor Sedan, shown here, a Fordor Sedan and a Club Coupe. The DeLuxe series includes Tudor and Fordor Sedan, Club Coupe and a Business Coupe.

Styled in an advanced, post-war pattern, only five feet three inches high, with low broad contour and full-width interior roominess, the new Ford has a 59 per cent more rigid body-and-frame structure, has more than 20 square feet of picture window visibility—the windshield alone is 137 square inches greater in expanse—and its new 100 h.p. V-type, eight-cylinder engine operates at up to 10 per cent greater economy.

Reduces Minimum Monthly Rate On Rural Electricity

A major change in the B.C. Electric policy governing minimum payments for electricity in rural areas, and the policy governing conditions under which new services will be made available in the future, was contained in an announcement made today by W. C. Mainwaring, B.C. Electric vice-president.

Conforming to a new ruling which will govern its rapidly expanding rural electrification services, the company has reduced the minimum monthly guarantee payments to $2 and announce that extensions of pole lines up to 1,500 feet will be made without charge, Mr. Mainwaring said.

AFFECTS 300 CONSUMERS
The announcement was welcome news for more than 300 consumers connected on the company's rural services on Lower Vancouver Island who pay varying minimum guarantees at the moment, all in excess of the new figure.

"This policy, in effect, will mean that minimum guarantees are virtually abolished since there are very few on our rural service system who do not consume more than $2 a month worth of electricity," Mr. Mainwaring said.

Previously minimums have been determined in individual cases on the basis of the pole line extension involved and the amount of service required, Mr. Mainwaring explained.

In outlining the detail of the new pole extension policy he explained that the company would undertake a 1,500-foot extension without charge to the consumer provided there was no unreasonable physical obstacle to be overcome. Longer extensions would be considered on their individual merits, he said.

Previously the company policy involved a monthly minimum guarantee of $2 for the first 300 feet and 3 cents for every additional 10 feet. In the case of a 1,300-foot extension this would mean a charge of $5.

SOUTH OF COBBLE HILL
On Vancouver Island the new policy will apply throughout the area served by the B.C. Electric, south of Cobble Hill. During recent years the whole of this district has been provided with distribution lines as part of the company's postwar program of expanding $50,000,000 for development of its services.

Besides being of interest to those now paying a higher guaranteed minimum payment, it will mean that farmers and residents of the rural area who have been without electricity may connect into the system at the new low rate.

Particular enthusiasm for the plan has been evident in the Fraser Valley area where, during the last two years, the rural electrification program has developed on a large scale and was recently marked with the opening of a new substation at Chilliwack. This area is the largest affected by the rural electrification program.

Restrict Use Of Water In Oak Bay

Oak Bay water use restrictions are now in force.

Even numbered houses can sprinkle lawns and gardens on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, while homes with odd-number addresses can water outdoor on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. With the exception of sprinkling systems there are no restrictions for Sunday use of water.

On any day persons with "fixed sprinkling systems" cannot use them between 5 and 9.30 in the evening.

There are no water restrictions between 10 at night and 6 in the morning.

The Oak Bay restrictions are imposed in spite of larger water mains grounded throughout the municipality. The mains from Sooke, A. S. G. Muirgrave, municipal engineer, stated are still too small to feed more water. Plans, however, were under way to remedy this.

$1,156,800 City Road Program Studied By Council

Schedule of Victoria streets to be reconditioned or rebuilt in a major road program, to cost an estimated $1,156,800, and be spread over a period of five years, with top priority for streets torn up by removal of car tracks, will be put before a special meeting of the City Council Thursday morning at 11, by the public works committee, for approval. Acting Mayor Dr. J. D. Hunter said today.

The schedule of streets as prepared by the acting city engineer, Cyril Jones, has been approved by the public works committee of which Acting Mayor Hunter is chairman. If given council approval the matter will go before the people in the Streets Construction By-Law June 24.

Highest estimated cost for any street is that for the work proposed on Fort Street from Government to Foul Bay Road. Approximate cost is estimated at $84,000. Cost of work on Government from Market to Superior is estimated at $46,000; on Oak Bay Avenue from Fort to Foul Bay Road at $33,700, and on Foul Bay Road from Crescent to Quamichan, which is estimated at approximately $53,000.

"If the by-law goes through we will start work as soon as possible," Acting Mayor Hunter said today.

"There has been nothing done in Victoria in the way of major road work for 20 years. This project will not just be patching but will present major operations," he continued. Most of our roads were built in the horse and buggy days and they have outlived their usefulness. The depression and then the war prevented institution of any major road work plan."

Improvement of hazardous intersections and rounding of corners is included in the schedule at a cost of $30,000 and purchase of necessary equipment for the road program at a cost of $50,000.

MAIN TRAFFIC ARTERIES

One group of streets, total cost of which is estimated at $338,000, includes main traffic arteries and bus routes which are in need of repair or reconditioning, and also includes streets on which B.C.E. Railway tracks still exist and where removal of tracks is not included in work provided for in this year's estimates.

In addition to the streets already mentioned, this group includes work on Superior from Douglas to St. Lawrence to cost an estimated $30,000; Pandora from Douglas to Cook, approximately $16,000; Esquimalt Road from Dominion to Point Ellice Bridge, approximately $10,000, and Burnside from Douglas to Washington at approximately $21,900.

Second group of streets in the schedule which are main traffic routes, include Caledonia from Blanshard to the High School, to cost approximately $30,000; Pembroke, from Fernwood to Richmond, to cost approximately $26,000; Bay Street, from Quadra to Cook, $14,000, and Begbie, from Belmont to Pembroke, $15,680. Cost of all the work in this section is estimated at $197,410.

In the third group are industries trial streets which will be both paved and curbed for a total cost of $133,750. Included are Begbie, from Carballo to Bay, at approximately $33,900; Discovery and Herald Streets at $13,000 each and Richmond from Fort to city limits at $18,250.

The fourth group calls for widening and reconditioning of roads at a cost of $248,690. Included in the group are Foul Bay Road from Crescent to Quamichan at $53,000; Bay Street from Cook to Richmond at approximately $36,400; Blanshard from Pembroke to Hillside at $36,500; Fairfield Road from Memorial Crescent to Foul Bay Road at $25,000 and Montreal Street from Belleville to Dallas at $32,490.

In the fifth group comes work to be lowered and roads reconditioned at a total cost of $38,520. Included here is Cook Street from Pandora to Caledonia at approximately $14,520.

Wood blocks will be removed and roads paved in the sixth group for a total cost of $27,680. This section includes work on Humboldt, Herald and Yates Streets. The seventh group calls for regrading and rebuilding of roads at a total cost of $43,670 and included Balmoral from Chambers to Fernwood. The schedule calls for building a new road on Cook from Cook to Cedar Hill at an approximate cost of $6,500.

Rebuilding and curbing on one side is called for on Vancouver Street from Rupert to Vancouver at an approximate cost of $13,600.

Forwards Gavel To Johannesburg Club

An ebony gavel, a gift from the Victoria Toastmasters' Club to a newly-formed club in Johannesburg, South Africa, was placed in the hands of Ralph C. Smedley, Toastmasters' founder, at a joint meeting of the three city Toastmasters' clubs, Tuesday night in the Strathcona Hotel.

The Johannesburg club was organized by Harry Olden, a former resident of this city and an active member of the Victoria Toastmasters' Club. Mr. Smedley noted Toastmasters' International has no paid organizers. New clubs are started by such men as Mr. Olden, who move away from a city where they have been associated with a Toastmasters' club to a city where there is no club. Through this means, Toastmasters' International has spread around the English-speaking world, he noted.

A truck driver who failed to remain at the scene of an accident after sideswiping a car on the Island Highway at 5 yesterday afternoon near Thetis Lake, left his "calling card" behind.

The collision had knocked off his rear license plate and it was found on the scene. Provincial Police will take court action against him.

Insurance Act Proclaimed

The Insurance Act Amendment Act, 1948, passed at the last session of the Legislature will come into operation June 30.

Proclamation was made by provincial order-in-council today. The act brings up to date legislation affecting group insurance. Similar legislation was enacted by all other provinces of the Dominion with the exception of Quebec.

Freight Piling Up In Sheds Due To Fraser Flood

"It's pretty grim" today, said a Canadian National Railway official with regard to the shipment of freight to eastern Canada which has been brought to a halt due to the Fraser River flood.

Large quantities of lumber and a wide assortment of merchandise from Victoria and other parts of the island are piling up in C.N.R. sheds.

The C.N.R. official predicted the shipment of freight would be retarded for at least a month. Railway lines would have to be repaired before freight traffic could be restored.

Other transportation companies are faced with the same difficulty. Dowell's Pacific Transfer and Storage Co. Ltd., reported their warehouses piling up with furniture.

"We just can't do anything about it," said an official. "We can't move a thing until road connections are restored."

Despite a halt in freight traffic to the east and retarded deliveries, manufacturers are still producing to capacity.

Inflation Curse Of U.S., Banker Says

"We are cursed by inflation in the United States, but bankers are doing what they can to curb the competition of buying of goods which are in short supply," said Ira M. Camp, president of the Washington Bankers' Association, who arrived here today to attend the organization's annual convention which starts Thursday.

Mr. Camp, who lives in La Crosse, a wheat-growing district in the State of Washington, stated he expected a record wheat crop this year. He added that prospect for a good crop across the country looks good.

"The Pacific coast has had an unusual amount of rain this year," he said, "with the result that some crops will be retarded."

He said the late season prevented seeding of the usual amount of peas, with the result that a large amount of land would not be producing in Washington this year.

P.G.E. Rates Approved

The provincial cabinet by order-in-council today approved the 21 per cent increase in freight rates on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway as announced earlier by Hon. John Hart, president of the railway.

Bad Weather Delays Empress Of Canada

Bad weather encountered in the Atlantic has delayed arrival in Montreal of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, now on her third westbound trip of the 1948 St. Lawrence season with a capacity list of passengers, it was learned today. The ship is expected to dock late today.

Buses Must Carry Signs

The provincial government ruled today that all school buses operating in B.C. must carry signs, front and back, stating they are school buses.

Ruling was made by order-in-council which states the lettering of the signs must be not less than five inches in height and must be painted black on a yellow background.

Government Boards Undemocratic

DR. F. CYRIL JAMES

Government appointed boards dealing with labor relations, unemployment insurance and in some cases national revenue were described as undemocratic by Dr. F. Cyril James, principal and vice-chancellor of McGill University, who is in Victoria today.

Dr. James said an aggrieved person appearing before these boards had no recourse to the courts and was forced to accept the decision of the board members.

He said too much was being said about the departure from democratic procedure with regard to the spy trials. "I didn't like some aspects of it," he said, "but the accused were tried by the courts which is the main thing."

"I think we are barking up the wrong tree," said Dr. James. "The real danger lies in other fields, such as government appointed boards which deal with labor relations and unemployment insurance."

The McGill principal pointed out that an aggrieved person brought his case before a board which was composed of civil servants who were appointed by the government. "Being appointed by the government they become an interested party," stated Dr. James.

Said Dr. James: "I believe in the ancient adage of Coke that the 'known certainty of the law is the security of all men.'"

Dr. James who flew from Calgary to Vancouver, said he got a bird's-eye view of what he described as the "colossal tragic picture of the Fraser Valley flood. Although easterners were being told had badly the flood was, he said aerial photographs of scenes which he saw would help to drive home the seriousness of the disaster.

"Pictures are better than words to describe a flood," he said. "Photos published in eastern Canadian newspapers did not tell the extent of the widespread damage the Fraser River was doing to villages and towns."

Dr. James tonight will address former graduates of McGill University at a dinner to be held in the Empress Hotel. Tomorrow he will address members of the Washington Bankers' Association who are holding their annual convention here.

$58,415 Subscribed To Flood Fund Here

Greater Victoria's drive for $100,000 in the current province-wide appeal for the B.C. Flood Emergency Relief Fund reached the $58,415 mark at noon today.

City contractors, architects and workmen, connected with the construction industry are setting the pace in the industrial canvass. Close to $3,000 has already been subscribed by building firms and their offices, while 90 per cent of construction workers have volunteered to give a day's pay to the fund.

Amount of the workmen's contribution will be announced some time later.

Individual donations and collections from various business offices are still pouring into banks, the City Hall, the city police station and other fund collection centres. The Strathcona Hotel and members of its staff today donated $100.

Many organizations in the city are planning money-raising projects for the fund. These offers are being gratefully received by the committee in charge of the fund here but approval is only being given to performances which will feature volunteer artists.

Sacks for use as sandbags are still being received at police stations in this area. The response has so far been good. More sacks are needed, however.

Dad's Cookie Company Tuesday donated 20,000 cookies to flood victims and those assisting in flood control work. Half of the cookies will be distributed through the Red Cross Society, while the other 10,000 has been given the navy for distribution amongst rescue and relief crews.

Manitoba Fire Picture Unchanged, Says Forester

WINNIPEG (CP)—There is no change in Manitoba's general forest fire picture, Provincial Forester J. G. Somers said today, although two of three bush fires reported in the south were extinguished overnight.

Light showers and higher humidity have helped to put out fires still burning, Mr. Somers said.

Labor-Management Committees Help Plants' Efficiency

Growth of Labor-Management Production Committees across Canada is an indication of the success of their operations in improving employer-employee relations, increasing production and eliminating wastage from scrap, H. Ross Rutherford, executive assistance of the Industrial Relations Branch of the Dominion Department of Labor, said in Victoria today.

Accompanied by R. E. Salter, field representative for B.C., Mr. Rutherford has been in the city several days and expressed appreciation of the support for the work of the committees which he had received from Premier Johnson and members of the cabinet.

The committees were organized in wartime to speed production and promote harmony between management and labor. The scheme had been so successful that it had been decided to continue them after the war, he said. There were 40 of them in British Columbia, including several in Victoria.

Management and labor felt that these committees stimulated co-operation to the benefit of both. The workmen were encouraged to present ideas, based on his skill in his particular job, which increased production, efficiency and eliminated waste. Employers had shown themselves ready to take advantage of these ideas, advancement of which had been made possible by the improved employee-employer relationship which the committees had fostered.

Crops Grow Rapidly

City Briefs

Monthly meeting of the Vancouver Island Rabbit Breeders' Association will be held Friday, at Prince Robert House, Douglas Street, at 8.

Charged with dangerous driving as a result of an accident with a power pole on Begbie Street at 12:15 on the morning of June 3, George Hayhoe pleaded guilty, was fined $40 and had his license suspended for three months by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. He was represented by Joseph McKenna, Constable W. Andrews testified.

Building permits were issued by the city building inspector's office Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Taylor for construction of a dwelling at 2521 Wark Street, to cost $5,000; to Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Keefer for a dwelling at 1515 Edgeware Road, to cost $4,000, and to Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Smith for a dwelling at 1359 Carnesew Street, to cost $7,000.

Body Found On Mayne Island Not Flood Victim; Much Fraser Debris

The Fraser River flood has resulted in the finding of the body of Milton Earl Harkies, 25, of Mission, B.C., who has been missing since April 10, Constable C. A. (Roy) Whitehead of the Ganges B.C. police detachment, reported today.

Body was found by a person who contacted Skipper Earle W. Lockwood, chief of the Ganges detachment, Monday on Mayne Island shores.

Identification was made possible through a class C chauffeur's badge on his belt.

It was first thought the deceased was a flood victim, but police learned otherwise yesterday after establishing his identity. The ramnapping Fraser, however, was the cause of his body being washed a long distance from his home, police said.

Livestock, uprooted trees, limbs, chicken houses, ladders and many other articles have been swept down the Fraser into Georgia Strait and the numerous Gulf Islands passages.

Quite a bit of the debris is reported to be passing Victoria in the stronger current well out in the straits. Some branches and logs have reached local beaches, John Bowker, Oak Bay boat-house, this week hauled in a drowned pig for burial. A dead calf is also reported to have been seen. One resident is said to have salvaged a chestfield and is rehabilitating it.

Tim Gurney, lighthouse keeper in Active Pass, reports the salchuck extremely muddy and many odd articles floating by. Constable Whitehead said the same muddy conditions and debris is the story throughout the island group, this confirmed by Mrs. E. Gear, Home Gas station on North Galiano Island's Portlier, Pass shores.

Hugh Creed, Brentwood fishing guide, reports some of the debris has reached the upper end of Saanich Inlet.

Trees and other obstacles in the water in the island group and locally have made night trips in small craft dangerous. It has spoiled the activities of professional fishermen because of the danger of floating debris to their nets and other gear.

Special Consideration For Students In Flood District

Special consideration will be given students in the flood areas who are scheduled to write junior and senior matriculation examinations later in the month.

This was announced today by Hon. W. T. Straith, K.C., Minister of Education, who said also adjustments will be made in grants to school boards which are based on school attendances.

Many students have been unable to attend schools because of flood conditions. Many schools have been closed altogether. But school boards in these areas will not receive any less in grants from the government than they would have received had the floods not occurred.

University and senior matriculation examinations will be held as scheduled with the first paper being written on Monday, June 21, Mr. Straith said.

"And all candidates in flood areas who can possibly write the examinations should do so," he added.

ADJUDICATION COMMITTEE But it is recognized that many students who have been unable to attend school will be handicapped and some will not be able to write examinations as a result or they may be members of the reserve army who will be on duty still when the examinations are being written.

For these an adjudication committee will be appointed to receive applications for special considerations. This committee will base its decisions on the school record and other information now in the possession of the education department. Separate applications for each student will be prepared by the principals of the high schools affected.

The minister said it was important that these applications be filed whether the candidates write examinations or not, provided, in the opinion of the school principal, the success of the candidate

Nanaimo Wedding Of Interest Here

Friends in Victoria will be interested to hear of the marriage of Gertrude Lillian Nelson and Douglas James Philp, which took place in Nanaimo at the Manse of the United Church.

Rev. A. Wilson officiated at the Saturday evening rites.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. H. Nelson of Ladysmith and the groom is the eldest son of R. H. Philp and the late Mrs. Philp, Cedar District, V.I.

Donald Nelson gave his sister in marriage. With her white silk dress she wore pastel blue and white accessories. A corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and swan-sonia completed her ensemble.

She was attended by Mrs. J. Galloway of Ladysmith, who also wore white, with pink rosebuds and sweetpeas in corsage. James Galloway was best man for the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother.

For going away the bride wore a two-piece suit of old gold with green accessories and black top-coat.

The young couple will make their home at Ladysmith.

Nursing Profession Calls Male Students

In a recent curriculum revision, the Registered Nurses' Association made specific provision for the acceptance of male students into schools of nursing. Such students will receive all the usual formal instruction, will attend clinics and participate in study projects. Practical experience will include general medical and surgical nursing, dietetics, pediatrics, orthopedics, communicable disease, including tuberculosis, and various specialties. At present there are only approximately 40 registered male nurses in Canada. Most of these are employed by the Department of Veterans Affairs in eastern Canada.

The Registered Nurses' Association believes there is a field for the professional male nurse, particularly in a province such as British Columbia where the major industries are physically hazardous and where large groups of workers are concentrated in outlying areas.

Male students must meet professional requirements in regard to general education and age. Two schools of nursing have signified their willingness to enrol male students and one such student has been accepted for admission to the September class. Young men interested may secure further information through the Registered Nurses' Association office, Vancouver block, Vancouver.

Esquimalt Municipal Council Tuesday night resolved itself into a committee-of-the-whole to meet W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president of the B.C. Electric Railway Co., and Harold Husband, managing director of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines.

The session between the councillors and the transportation heads lasted 45 minutes.

Only indication of what went on behind the closed doors came when reporters were permitted to return to the meeting after Mr. Mainwaring and Mr. Husband had left.

An item on the agenda calling for discussion on a B.C. Electric request for increased tariffs was passed over by the council with the comment from Reeve A. I. Thomas: "That has already been taken care of."

Ilsey May Bare Some Details Of R.C.M.P. Spy Investigations

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada may get a look into Russian undercover activities in this country, though no more than a peek past a lifted corner of the R.C.M.P.'s curtain.

Under pressure in the Commons, Justice Minister Ilsey agreed Tuesday night to give "very careful consideration" to disclosing R.C.M.P. information on any spy rings and Russian-dominated organizations operating in Canada.

But he warned that any disclosures would be skimpy. Telling the House he had no information now, he said he did not think he should make public "much" of any material he got.

John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., prodded the minister—who is in charge of the R.C.M.P.—into thinking the matter over during discussion of Mr. Ilsey's estimates for the force.

Mr. Diefenbaker recalled the R.C.M.P.'s role in the spy investigation of 1945. At that time, he said, the Royal Commission on espionage had turned up the existence of five separate Russian rings in Canada. He wanted to know what evidence there was to support this find, and he wanted the information up to date.

The minister replied he did not have that knowledge himself. The question whether it would be proper, even if he got it, to give the House information on police activities.

DEFENDS PUBLICATION

In another spat with Mr. Diefenbaker, Mr. Ilsey defended the propriety of publishing last week's report alleging a combine in the optical goods trade before the launching of prosecutions.

Mr. Diefenbaker questioned that there was justification for "trying individuals before the bar of public opinion by the publication of reports indicating guilt when a subsequent prosecution may take place."

Mr. Ilsey said the Combines Investigation Act provided that such reports were to be made public. Publicity was a necessity. Otherwise, the public had no way of knowing if a combine existed.

Mr. Ilsey likened publication of reports to that of evidence in a court preliminary inquiry. However, the reports should be fair to those concerned, and he felt this was the case in the present instance.

Mr. Diefenbaker asked if Mr. Ilsey as Dominion Attorney-General intended to launch court prosecutions, but Mr. Ilsey did not indicate his intentions in this direction.

E. G. McCullough, C.C.F., Assiniboia, Sask., said the Combines Investigation Act in its present form would not halt "unfair prices."

Monopolies were getting away with "nothing less than legalized robbery," he said.

Students Sack Homes For Fraser Flood Sandbags

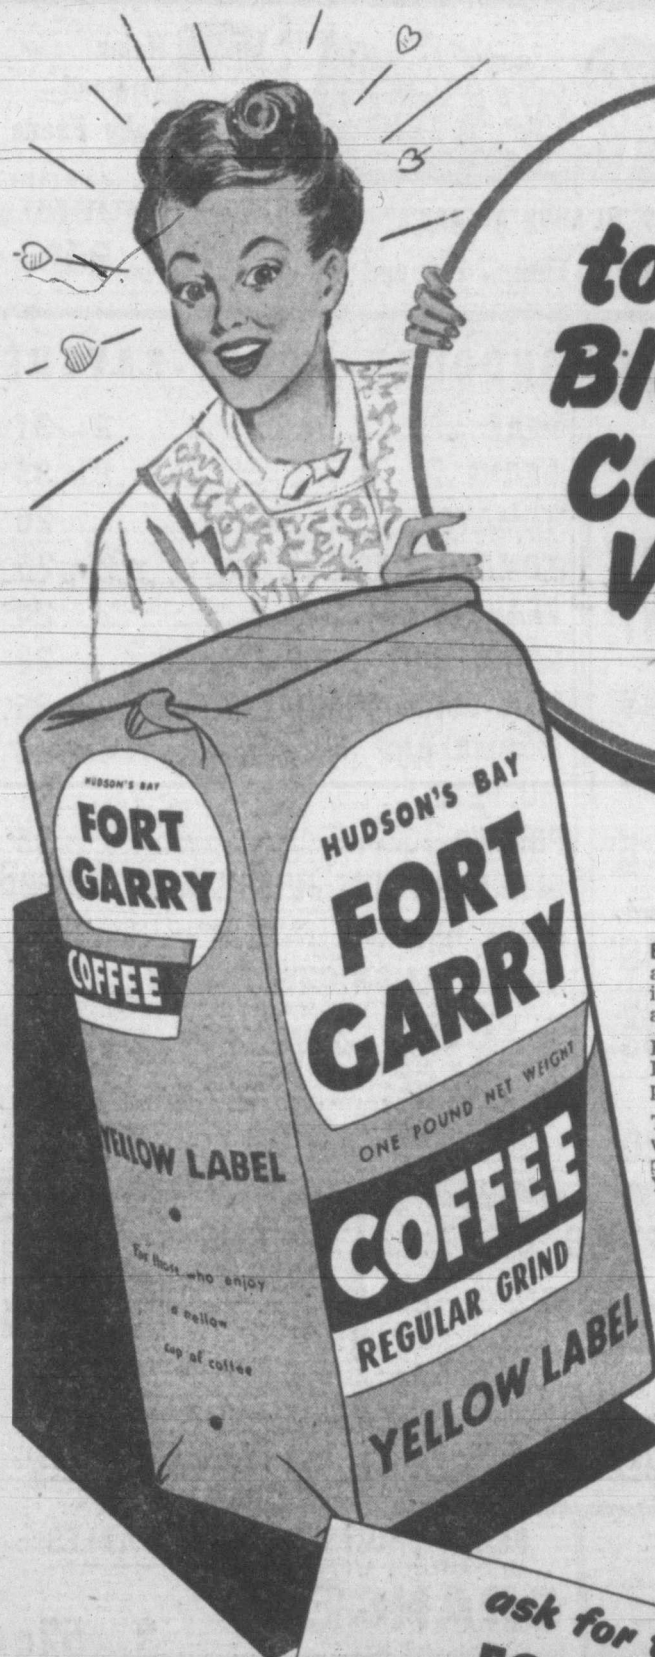

When it comes to collecting for needy causes, youngsters lead the way, as evidenced by the efforts Tuesday of North Ward School students who went on the hunt for sacks to be filled with sand for reinforcing Fraser Valley levees. The students collected 1,750 sacks in one hour, then took a breather so the cameraman could take their picture with their principal, Joe Ross. School children in all parts of the city are rallying to the cause. If by chance they miss you, sacks for the flood areas can be left at the Bay Street Armouries, Work Point Barracks or at any police station.

LACK SELF-CONFIDENCE

Many people become frustrated when called upon to speak, because they lack self-confidence and feel inadequate, he said.

"An audience scares them. They get 'buck fever' and go into a cold sweat," he said. "The only thing for these people to do is to learn to speak by speaking."

The best speakers of the present day, Mr. Smedley believes, are those who use a conversational approach. The day of oratory has gone, he said.

Saanich Council Gets First 'Blitz' Of Year On Poor Water Supply; No Immediate Remedy

With the hot months here and Saanich already suffering from the lack of water, Saanich Council was the target for its annual "blitz" from irate ratepayers at last night's meeting.

Thirty-five home-owners of the Ten Mile Point district, which Councillor J. L. Hobbs labeled the "Uplands of Saanich"—crowded into the council chamber to hear what the council members had to say on the subject.

The subject was aired for about 90 minutes and it boiled down to this answer from the council:

"We can't do anything about it until we get the $350,000 worth of pipe ordered—and until we establish reservoirs to build up our pressure."

There was no doubt left in the minds of the administrative body that the water situation at the point was critical, some of the residents claiming "we can't get a drop of water out of our taps from 6.45 in the morning until 10.45 at night."

FIRE CHIEF AGREES

There was a letter from Fire Chief Joseph Law complaining of the lack of water to fight fire in the area.

It was pointed out the district has grown tremendously during the last 10 years and with more home pipes tapping in, the water supply per unit was getting less and less, creating a danger to health and from fire.

There was one threat read out by a woman present, for a man who could not attend, which in effect told the council if they could not do something to rectify the "terrible situation" it might be better for the point residents to form their own urban municipality and handle the remedying of troubles by themselves.

"The sprinkling regulations which went into effect today is the only easing of the water shortage we can promise you at the moment," said H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer.

He was joined by Reeve E. C. Warren and other council members in placing the blame for the acute shortage in too much water being used for sprinkling.

People who did this were not thinking of the welfare of the other fellow, it was stressed.

The delegation was assured they were not representing the only area facing the same plight. Mr. Dawson explained the pipes handling the water distribution were too small.

"I have placed this large order for adequate size pipe. To date I have only received three carloads and that went into the ground immediately," he said. The cry for pipe was heavy all over the postwar world, he added, industrial disputes were holding up production. Mr. Dawson doubted if orders placed would be filled for a long time. That secured had not been bought from dealers, but from wherever it was available.

"We can supply you with all the water wanted if we had the pipes to handle it," Reeve Warren explained to one questioner.

NEED FOR RESERVOIRS

The reeve said that what was really necessary in Saanich was the construction of several reservoirs on high ground to be filled from the city's main lines during the night to build up pressure for daylight use.

He noted that during the dry season pressure was built up to 135 pounds during the night but slumped to 80 pounds in the morning, thus cutting down pressure to push water through.

He emphasized that such an undertaking would mean a money-by-law to the ratepayers—and here the reeve lamented the way the voters had defeated many projects to better their services in several directions.

"We are powerless to help if the people continue to turn down these by-laws," the reeve told his listeners.

There was one suggestion put forward by councillors that certain areas have special restrictions on use of water—especially the heavy users now—but the advice of the solicitor will be required on this before any action can be taken.

Reeve Warren promised that as soon as any pipe became available 10 Mile Point would get top priority on it.

The reeve said four inspectors were put on the job to stop violation of sprinkling rules last year. Many prosecutions followed. Quite a number of persons came to him and appealed against prosecution.

"Everybody got the same medicine," Reeve Warren declared.

Rev. W. Hills suggested the use of pipe substitutes like the navy had used for emergency cases. The reeve's reply to this was that the council was controlled by the Municipal department when spending public money.

The main speaker for the council throughout, the reeve said he was fully aware of the danger by fire due to the lack of water.

"I am just as aware as you of this menace. During the peak use hours if a fire breaks out our big worry is that it will not be confined to a single unit but may spread to wipe out a whole block," he said.

CAN'T STOP BUILDING

The complaint that although there was a shortage of water for houses already on streets at the point, building permits were issued to build others and thereby cut down the supply still more per unit.

"If you own property and plans comply with our regulations we cannot prevent you from building, although we do hand out advice about difficulties that will be encountered," Reeve Warren replied.

One person present still thought the council should have the power to stop further building where necessary.

A woman in the delegation said that it may result out-houses will have to be built for the homes in the area if there was no relief to the water situation.

"When people turn down money by-laws, does it mean that they have to get along as best they can with what they have been getting?" asked Councillor K. R. Genn.

The reeve replied that that was the way it went.

Locate Owner Of 'Boxed-In' Shack; To Be Demolished

J. S. Taylor, Saanich building inspector, reported to the council last night he had contacted the Chinese who owns the "boxed-in" shack on Beckwith Avenue and that steps were being taken to have it torn down.

Mr. Taylor said he was contacting the prosecutor C. L. Harrison, before taking final steps in the matter. The Chinese, he said, had not stated his willingness to take the shack down personally.

This was the shack pictured in the Times last week which the inspector spotted when he saw the chimney sticking up behind a three-quarter wall of stacked boxes. There was no building permit issued to construct it, he found, and started action to have it torn down.

Patrol Officer Of The Week

Patrolman Ian Parker, aged 13 years, is the "patrolman of the week" in the Kiwanis Club Junior School Traffic Safety program. The Sir James Douglas School grade 8 pupil believes the patrol system is an excellent method of handling school children. "It also gives the patrol boys a certain amount of responsibility and teaches children to be obedient," he says. Ian finds patrol work fun as well as a worthwhile duty, notes that patrolmen are rewarded with free shows and ball games to make up for time expended on duty.

$4,000 Council Donation Opens Saanich Flood Fund

Saanich council members displayed their desire to lend a financial helping hand in the emergency created by the disastrous floods on the mainland, at their meeting last night by starting a Saanich appeal for funds rolling with a $4,000 donation.

The meeting approved the Saanich Board of Trade as the official agency to engineer the drive in the municipality.

It is to be known as the Saanich Flood Relief Fund and Claude Butler, trade board president, asked the aid of the council to set up the organization to canvass the entire municipality as quickly as possible.

Mr. Butler reported that Fred Riley, Brentwood, had offered to operate the headquarters end of the campaign and the council offer of the council chamber for this was accepted.

Mr. Butler asked that each ward councillor secure the names of at least two persons connected with organizations in their wards to act on the headquarters committee. It was felt this was the best system as it would bring in organizations covering thousands of the population and provide a speedy canvass.

Councillor J. L. Hobbs, who labeled the flood situation as a calamity, moved Saanich Council donate the first fund and Reeve E. C. Warren suggested the $4,000.

In reply to questions of where will the council get the donation, the reeve said it would partly come from the contingency fund and money realized where the revenue was underestimated.

Board of Trade has its first organization meet tonight in the Municipal Hall and hopes the councillors' appointees will be in attendance.

A board member reported 2,000 sacks collected had already been turned over to the army for the flood area and reported donations of clothing waiting to be collected.

Support Oak Bay Reeve In His Capacity As Saanich Solicitor

Saanich Ward 3 Ratepayers' Association are annoyed at recent remarks made about Reeve R. A. Wootton of Oak Bay in relation to his post as solicitor of Saanich.

A letter from the association over the signature of N. Cowper-Bell, chairman, was read at last night's council meeting. Ward 4 Ratepayers' Association had previously expressed opposition to an Oak Bay reeve being Saanich's legal adviser.

"Our municipal solicitor has been criticized for continuing to occupy that position while holding the office of reeve in another municipality," the letter read.

"In our opinion, if his professional advice is sound and discharged reasonably, the activities of the solicitor in other spheres concern neither the council nor ratepayers, providing always these activities are reputable.

"The council cannot fail to be aware Mr. Wootton has met these conditions in full measure over a period of years and any attempt to replace him on other grounds would be a disgraceful act which would be opposed by all responsible elements in Saanich," it concluded.

There was no comment except "received and filed."

Water Restriction Violators To Be Police Targets

Saanich police were on the lookout today to see that home owners were adhering to the new hot-weather sprinkling restrictions which went into effect in the municipality yesterday.

There are heavy penalties for offenders, $25 for first convictions, $50 for second offenders and more for consistent violators.

Move is an annual one to reduce the use of water for sprinkling so that the homes will have more.

All property having an even street address number or situated on the north or west sides of streets can sprinkle on even number days only.

All odd street address numbers or home situated on the south or east sides of streets can sprinkle on odd days only.

This regulation also applies on Sundays.

Open-hose irrigation is strictly illegal.

60 Cents A Month Would Be Cost Of New Road Program

The information that the cost per ratepayer a month to equip Saanich municipality with high-grade through roads will be around 60 cents, was revealed by H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, at Tuesday night's meeting of the council.

He reported this after the council had voted to strike a money by-law for $495,000 for the proposed road program, Councillor Leslie Passmore moving the motion and Councillor K. R. Genn seconding it. It was approved 100 per cent.

"My assessment is above average, but I have worked it out to find it will cost me 60 cents a month," the engineer stated.

The council was unanimous that the road program by-law should be put to the ratepayers at the same time as the Brentwood and District water by-law to cost $320,000 is put to the people concerned. The date for the voting was left to a later meeting to decide.

E. L. Tait To Appeal Saanich Council Ruling On Roads

Ernest L. Tait, owner of the Cadboro Bay subdivision north of the Uplands gates, last night served notice on Saanich Council he is taking an appeal to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council on the recent municipal decision against his application on roads in the property.

Mr. Tait, who has plans to mold the large piece of property into a residential beauty spot complete with a small lake, wanted to build roads through his property of less width than the 40 feet demanded by Saanich Council. Council said "no" to this because of consistent trouble with "other lanes" built in the municipality.

While Mr. Tait agreed to increase the two roads in question by five feet to 25 feet, the municipal body insisted on the question width.

Both Councillors J. L. Hobbs and William Kersey expressed the view that the council should have come down to a 30-foot width. They were sure Mr. Tait would have agreed to it.

The meeting by majority vote decided to send a letter requesting that engineer H. D. Dawson be allowed to appear before the body to present Saanich's case.

No Opposition To Amending 2 By-laws

With no opposition expressed at two public hearings held just prior to Tuesday night's meeting of Saanich Council, the municipal body approved two amendments to the zoning by-law.

One allows home-owners to construct greenhouses on their property for private use not over a maximum of 165 square feet. The other approved was for the minimum square foot floor area for homes in Mayfair Heights district being increased from 800 to 1,200. This was asked for by members of the Mayfair ratepayers at the last meeting.

Genn To Attend Gas Hearing For Saanich

Councillor K. R. Genn was named Saanich Council representative to attend the public hearing on new gas rates called by the Public Utilities Commission for June 21. Council at its meeting last night did not pass any resolution as to its views on the sought increase.

Saanich Councillors In Shirt Sleeves

Saanich Council members got down to work in shirt sleeves last night, Councillor K. R. Genn, noting the suffering of some of those present asked Reeve E. C. Warren if it was all right to shed coats.

"I'm all for it," said the reeve with a grin, and immediately took his off. Other members of the council followed suit with grateful sighs, although Councillors J. L. Hobbs, Thomas Alexander and George Rudd, apparently unaffected by the heat, kept their coats on.

Druggists Offer Flood Contribution

Druggists and drug travelers in Vancouver and district have been doing all within their power to aid in the present emergency flood condition.

The Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia, early in the battle of the Fraser, notified the Red Cross that it stood ready to organize a drug pool in the event of necessity. Now the Greater Vancouver Druggists' Association has organized the drug stores at the request of the B.C. Flood Emergency Fund so that contributions towards the fund can be left in drug stores. Formerly these could only be left with banks and trust companies, and as the drug stores are open for longer hours, it will aid in collection of contributions throughout the entire day and evening.

Mauve was first patented as a dye by Sir William H. Perkin in 1858.

Deputy Minister Opens Exhibition

Deputy Minister of Education F. T. Fairley awards first scholarship prize to Judith Phyllis Morgan at the annual Indian Arts and Crafts Exhibition which opened at the Provincial Museum Tuesday. Left, Cora Charlie and Della Charlie, right, who were awarded prizes for handicrafts.

Indian educational reforms was predicted by Deputy Minister of Education F. T. Fairley who opened the seventh annual exhibition of Indian arts and crafts at the Provincial Museum Tuesday.

Plans were being worked out in Ottawa to give Indian children the same educational privileges as other Canadians, he said.

He added that the provincial government had more than a passing interest in the education of native children. "We hope to see native Indians get the same citizenship privileges as other Canadians," he stated.

With regard to the exhibition, Mr. Fairley said the preservation of Indian culture was an important thing.

The exhibition, sponsored by the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society, was attended by a large number of members, friends and Indians. Mrs. B. M. Cryer, vice-president presided.

SEVEN ALBERNI PUPILS

Among those present were A. E. Caldwell, principal of the Alberni Indian Residential School. Mr. Caldwell brought down with him seven of his pupils. Others present were Dr. Clifford Carl, director of the Provincial Museum, and George N. Sinclair of Victoria, until recently art instructor at the Alberni school.

The exhibition, which will continue until June 19, will feature paintings and crafts executed by native children from all parts of the province. There was some exceptionally fine leatherwork and embroidery. The paintings were a definite improvement of last year's exhibits.

SECOND SCHOLARSHIP

Attractive 17-year-old Judith Phyllis Morgan for a second time was awarded the scholarship prize for the best painting. The youthful artist smiled gracefully when she received the $100 scholarship prize from Deputy Minister Fairley. The money will help defray her art school expenses.

Names of other prizewinners are as follows: Class 1, over 10 years, Cora Charlie, first; Pat MacKay, second; Wilson Bob, third.

Class 2, 10 years and under, Gilbert Joe, first; Doreen James, second. Russel Joseph, special prize.

Handicrafts, over 10 years, Della Charlie and Cora Charlie, for woven cushion. Muriel Joe for an Indian woman.

Seek Statement On Transit Costs

A certified financial statement and breakdown of costs of transportation companies to determine policy on the application for fare increases, will be asked from the Public Utilities Commission by city and municipal representatives, it was decided at a meeting of city and municipal transportation committee members at City Hall, Tuesday.

The meeting discussed application of the B.C. Electric Railway and Vancouver Island Coach Lines for increased fares. Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the city committee, said the commission is being asked to supply figures which have been certified as a true statement by the commission's auditors and accountants, not statements prepared by the companies.

"Then we will be able to see what justification the companies have for making application for fare increases," Ald. Diggon said.

The DOCTOR Says:

BUNIONS CAUSED BY WEARING TOO SHORT OR POINTED SHOES

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

A bunion is generally found on the inside portion of the foot, at the base of the great toe. It sticks out and is likely to be red and extremely painful. The point of the big toe is bent inward so that it lies almost across the other toes. The most important symptom is pain, which is always present when a shoe is worn.

The most frequent cause of a bunion is the wearing of shoes which are too short or too pointed. Hence, it is important to prevent bunions by careful fitting of shoes.

SPECIAL SHOES USED

There are two lines of treatment. One involves an operation, and the other is non-surgical. The first thing to try, of course, is the non-surgical treatment, which consists merely of using shoes which are large and round in the toes, thus preventing pressure on the bunion. Complete absence of pressure for a long time is helpful.

Surgery may be necessary if the bunion does not yield to other methods. The bunion is frequently associated with the accumulation of fluid in the joint lying at the base of the big toe. This fluid can be removed by a needle in some cases. A cut can be made which will allow the fluid to drain off and the swelling to decrease.

Finally, there is an operation, which is necessary in bad cases, called a bursectomy. This involves the removal of some of the excess bone and soft tissue

Esquimalt People Say Colville Bus Service Unsuitable

Esquimalt Municipal Council, at a meeting Tuesday night, voted in favor of having the B.C. Electric Railway Co. revert to its original Colville bus route as soon as possible as the present route does not meet the needs of patrons.

The action followed a council hearing of Mrs. M. Millan, 1042 Colville Road, and Mrs. O. H. Augustine, 1123 Lockley Road, who appeared before the council as representatives of 223 ratepayers in the municipality who depend upon Colville buses to meet their transportation needs. The present route, which takes buses from the city to H.M.C.S. Naden via Colville Road and back the same way, is not suitable, Mrs. Millan said.

The old service, which took buses out to the naval barracks via Colville Road and from there to Esquimalt village via Admirals Road and then back to the city via Esquimalt Road, was better.

To get to Esquimalt village under present circumstances, Colville Road people have to board a city-bound Colville bus, get off at Head Street and Esquimalt Road, and transfer to an Esquimalt bus.

"The housewives aren't coming to the village to shop any more because it's easier for them to go right into the city," Mrs. Augustine told the council.

Council also voted to have in-bound Munro buses re-routed along Wollaston Street instead of having them climb the steep Head Street hill.

The sum of $198 was voted by the council for the purchase of a grass cutter.

Permission was granted the Glad Tidings Tabernacle to erect a Sunday school on Colville Road, following reading of a report from the Town Planning Commission, which approved of the building.

A letter was read before the council from Bewdley Avenue resident, complaining that municipal service drains were higher than his land.

He charged that his neighbors paid less taxes than he, yet, water from their property ran into his, making his ground soggy. The matter was referred to the municipal engineer.

A request from a Victoria plasterers' union, asking that Esquimalt appoint a plaster inspector, was turned down by the council.

Mr. Fulcher was asked by the council to study drainage on Wartime Housing property between Fraser and Macaulay and between Wollaston and Dunsinuir as no plans show a drainage system in these areas.

Rainiers Beaten In 11th After Gaining 4-0 Lead

Any time Los Angeles plays Hollywood there's likely to be fireworks.

Last night's game between the neighborhood Pacific Coast League rivals was a case in point as the third-place Angels took a 10 to 6 decision from Hollywood in a 28-hit slugfest.

The Angels advanced a game in the standings as the front-running San Francisco Seals bowed to Portland, 5 to 1, and runner-up Seattle lost an 11-inning tilt to San Diego, 5 to 4. In the league's other series opener, Oakland tripped Sacramento, 4 to 1.

Expert relief pitching by newcomer Doyle Lade steered Los Angeles to its win. Lade took over from Red Adams in the fifth to quell a rally with the Angels in front, 5 to 3, and the tying runs on base.

Steve Mesner's 11th inning double which drove home Din Clay enabled San Diego to nip Seattle.

The Rainiers took a 3 to 0 lead in the third inning and widened it in the fourth on Tony York's homer. However, the Padres came back with three rallies in the sixth on singles by Mesner, Johnny Barrett and Buster

Adams and a double by Jack Graham, Graham's 26th homer of the season in the eighth tied the count.

San Francisco was the victim of Roy Helsers' four-hit pitching. Portland won the game on a three-run spurt in the fourth inning after the Seals had tied the count at one-all in the second. The Beavers added an unneeded fifth run in the fifth.

Oakland overcame a series-opener jinx for the second time this season in downing Sacramento. Les Webber held Sacramento to four hits in seven innings but yielded five blows in the last two frames.

McCollum Beats A's To Square Series

Chiefs Move Up As Salem Trims Tacoma; Lou Kubiak Has Perfect Night

Victoria's faltering Athletics can thank Bremerton Blue-jackets that they are not in the W.I.L. cellar today. The A's dropped their fourth game in five starts last night, losing to Wenatchee Chiefs, 7 to 5, to square the present series at one game each. Meanwhile, Bremerton was defeating Yakima Packers, 6 to 4, enabling the locals to retain their seventh-place rating.

However, the remainder of the field is closing the gap on the Tacoma Tigers. Salem Senators whipped the league leaders, 7 to 3, to allow Wenatchee to cut Tacoma's lead to one and one-half games. Victoria is six games out of first place and three-and-one-half out of the first division.

Tall Lou McCollum went to the hill for the shorthanded Chiefs last night and although touched for 11 hits, the same number as the Chiefs garnered from the trio of Victoria pitchers, he was effective in the pinches and hurled steady ball after giving up a pair of runs in the first inning.

Charlie Balassi walked to open the A's first inning. When third sacker, Ray McNulty threw the ball wildly to first base on Buccola's sacrifice, Balassi circled to score. Archie Wilson then, tripped to score Buccola.

PALMER HOMERS

Wenatchee picked up a pair of singles in the second and third frames on home runs by Gene Gaviglio and Jess McWilliams. Jack Palmer homered for the A's in the third to put Victoria in a 3 to 2 lead.

The break that decided the game came in the Wenatchee fifth. With McCollum and McWilliams on base by virtue of successive singles, McNulty rammed a ground ball towards second base. Expecting a sacrifice, Palmer started for first, only to have the ball go right through the vacated position for two bases. Both runners scored to put the Chiefs ahead, 4 to 3.

A's came back to tie the count in the sixth on singles by Sal Recca, Lou Kubiak and Larry Ward, the latter driving in the tally.

Roy Gilmore's two-base error on Lou Estes' single accounted for the sixth Wenatchee run in the seventh as Bill Wilson followed with a single to score Estes.

With one out in the seventh Victoria got a chance to tie it up again when Palmer walked. But on the next play, a high pop-up to the second baseman by Wilson, Palmer was off with crack of the bat and was an easy victim on the second half of the double play as he was resting on third base when the catch was made. Palmer just forgot there was only one man out!

Larry Ward, A's starting pitcher, once more failed to last going out in the eighth inning under five as the Chiefs sewed up the contest with a two-run outburst. Jerry Gardner opened the frame with a double and scored on another two-base blow by Gaviglio.

Joe Blankenship came to the rescue and put out the fire but not before Gaviglio had spiked the plate on an error by Lou Kubiak on a play to third base and wild pitch by Mr. Blankenship himself. The inning ended with Wilson throwing out Palca at the plate after an outfield fly by McNulty.

Final Victoria run came in the last of the eighth. Singles by Gilmore, Kubiak and pinch-hitter Del Owens loaded the sacks and McCollum walked Balassi to force in the tally. Buccola skied out to end the threatened rally. Al Goot finished up for the A's in the ninth.

On the bright side of the picture was the apparent return to form by Kubiak. The Victoria shortstop led hitters of both clubs with a perfect four for four evening.

Side-arm Frank Logue is slated to start for the A's tonight with manager Chuck Cronin on the hill for the Chiefs. Salem's victory over the Tacoma Tigers accomplished something no other club has been able to do this season — beat the Tigers twice in a row on their home field. Fine relief pitching by Bob Stevenson was responsible for the win as he held the Tigers to one hit and one run in eight innings after Tacoma had taken an early lead.

Spokane Indians trimmed the Vancouver Capitanos, 14 to 9, to cling to fifth spot in the loop. The Indians won in the early innings scoring five runs in the second and four in the third.

Bill Brenner hit a three-run homer for Vancouver in the ninth.

Jimmy Brown's two-run single was the big blow in an eighth-inning, three-run rally that enabled Bremerton to defeat Yakima.

Ruth Oster Hurls One-Hitter As Eaglettes Score Win

Ruth Oster of Eaglettes, leaders in the A section of the Women's Softball League, last night chalked up her seventh victory of the season as against one defeat by turning in a brilliant one-hit performance over Sidney as Eaglettes trimmed the suburbanites, 10 to 0.

Only three batters reached first off Oster. The lone single came in the first inning by Thomas and the others reached first on a walk in the second and an error in the third. Oster struck out seven.

Eaglettes scored once in the first inning four times in the fourth, a singleton in the fifth and four more in the sixth.

Meanwhile the second place Adverts stayed close behind the leaders by edging Army and Navy Taxi, 12 to 11. Winners had to come from behind to defeat the taxi girls and they accomplished the feat by scoring five runs in the sixth and five in the seventh. P. Hancock was the winning pitcher.

In the men's senior B loop, Black and White ran wild at the expense of Sidney Roofing to defeat the roofers, 22 to 3. Pitcher Elliott hit two home runs for Black and White. Clarkson hit another four bagger for the winners.

Page Cleaners had an easy time with Y.M.C.A. in the junior boys' league and walked off with a 32 to 3 triumph. C.C.Y.M. squeezed out Junior Optimists, 17 to 16, in a juvenile contest.

Attendance Drops For Coast Baseball

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pacific Coast Baseball League attendance is lagging behind last year's record turnout.

For the first 10 weeks of the current campaign, paid admissions totaled 1,415,567, league president Clarence Rowland announced last night. The total represented a drop of 162,996 over the corresponding 1947 period.

Seattle leads at the turnstiles this year, with 235,906 paid admissions. It is the only club to exceed its 1947 pace of 179,353.

Bearden May Prove Pennant To Indians

A "throw-in" in a deal between New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians two years ago, Gene Bearden loomed today as the key player in the Indians' pennant chances.

The wavy-haired southpaw came along as excess baggage when the Tribe acquired Allen Gettel and Hal Peck in a trade that sent Sherman Lollar and Ray Mack to the Yankees.

No pitcher in the American League has hurled better ball. Bearden's earned run average of under 1.50 is easily the best in the majors. Only Vic Raschi of the Yankees, with seven victories in eight decisions, boasts a better won-and-lost record than Bearden's 6-1.

Bearden gained his sixth victory last night when he pitched the Indians to a 2 to 0 triumph over the Red Sox in Boston. The victory increased the Indians' first-place lead over the Philadelphia Athletics and Yankees to 3½ games.

The Indians collected only five hits off lefty Mel Farnell, but one was a home run by Manager Lou Boudreau, his sixth of the season. It came in the fourth inning with one on.

The Yankees moved into a second-place tie with the Athletics, coming from behind to edge out Chicago White Sox 3 to 2 in a 12-inning night battle at Yankee Stadium. Detroit Tigers nipped the A's 2 to 1 in another "squeaker" at Philadelphia.

BROWN STAR AGAIN

Bobby (Golden Boy) Brown scored Yogi Berra with the winning run for the Yankees with a two-out single in the 12th.

Hal Newhouse continued to climb back by holding the Athletics to seven hits. It was his fifth straight victory after four consecutive defeats. Los Angeles Brissie matched Newhouse in the hit department, but was charged with his fifth loss when the Tigers scored two runs in the sixth. It was Philadelphia's fourth straight loss, its longest losing streak of the season.

The Senators came from behind three times to tie the score then tallied twice in the seventh to nip St. Louis Browns 6 to 5 in a night game in Washington.

St. Louis Cardinals advanced to within four percentage points of the National League-leading New York Giants by defeating Philadelphia Phillies 7 to 5 in a night game in St. Louis. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen gained his sixth victory against one defeat, but Ted Wilks saved the game for him with some brilliant relief pitching.

Scoring six runs in the first two innings, Brooklyn Dodgers staved off a couple of desperate Cincinnati rallies to nip the Reds 6 to 5 in Cincinnati. Willard Ramsdell, relieving starter Ralph Branca in the third, allowed only two hits in 6 1/3 innings.

Young Vernon Bickford gave up only four hits in pitching Boston Braves to a 11 to 1 victory over Johnny Schmitz and the Cubs in Chicago. It was the Cubs seventh straight loss.

Pounditout Fails Sports Scribes In Racing Debut

NEW YORK (AP)—Pounditout made his racing debut at Belmont Park in the first race Sunday but he did nothing to make his owners — the New York World-Telegram's sports department — throw their typewriters away for a life of ease.

The bay son of Impound-Florida girl was a gift from Alfred Vanderbilt to the scribes before he was even foaled, but the sports department had to foot all the bills. The colt received his name through a contest conducted by the paper for its readers. Pounditout, recently recovered from a case of bucking shins, faced 17 other maiden youngsters of the $6,000-$5,000 claiming brackets.

Away well, the newspaper horse just couldn't keep close and wound up in a tight fit for 10th position. As many of his owners as could be spared saw their "baby" sport the black and white silks, and while he succeeded only in making their faces a bit red, they got a bigger kick out of it than watching Citation in the Belmont Stakes.

The scribes race in the name of "Rolling Press Farm."

Bung Eng Will Return To Auto Races Saturday

Victoria's popular Chinese driver, Bung Eng, will have his race car ready for Saturday's meet at Langford Speedway and it is reported that Bung, who was a crowd pleaser last year, will be at the wheel.

Last Summer Bung drove his car through the fence on the south turn and spent several weeks in the hospital with a broken clavicle. Many fans have been wondering if Bung's accident was the reason for his not appearing on the track this year, but he states that he has not been ready to start wheeling his car up until now.

A real dare-devil at the wheel, Bung may be the driver who will throw caution to the winds and break the track record of 18 seconds to win the bonus purse of $250.

Cycling Club Will Stage Time Trials

The Victoria Cycling Club will hold time trials at Beacon Hill Park Friday. The regular bi-monthly meeting will be held Monday, June 14, at 1527 Cold Harbor Road. All members are requested to attend as the election of club captain and lieutenants will take place. Non-members can contact Alf Matthews at E9834 for further details.

Amateur Fighter Dies After Collapse

SALIDA, Colo. (AP)—Lloyd Martinez, 19-year-old Salida boxer, died last night during a bout in an Amateur Athletic Union boxing tournament here. Cause of death was not immediately determined.

Martinez came out of his corner for the third round of a bout with Late Quintana when he suddenly whirled around and fell unconscious. He died an hour later after being rushed to a hospital.

Graziano Rates 1-2 Ring Choice Tonight

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Noisy Rocky Graziano meets stolid Tony Zale in Ruppert Stadium tonight in the rubber match of their violent ring series.

At stake this third time is Rocky's world middleweight championship, won from Zale July 16, 1947, in Chicago. In the first fight, Sept. 27, 1946, in New York's Yankee Stadium, Zale was victor by a knockout.

Both previous battles were bloody, bolsterous affairs ending in the sixth round. Odds are 8 to 1 this one also will not go all the scheduled 15 rounds.

Betting odds that last week favored Graziano 5 to 12 narrowed on the eve of the clash to 1 to 2. Zale is 34 years old and Graziano 26, and this age differential is counted Zale's only handicap.

The champion is assured $120,000 or 40 per cent of the net. The challenger is guaranteed $60,000 or 20 per cent of the net.

The sleek, quiet Zale won the middleweight championship in 1940 and served in the navy during the war. The tough, feisty, haired Graziano served in the army but his war record led to a ban against him in Illinois and other states.

BOTH CONFIDENT

In New York Rocky is kept out of the ring because of charges he did not report an alleged bribe offer. Graziano contends it was just a joke.

Zale said he would end tonight's fight in three rounds. Graziano wouldn't name a round but he expressed confidence of victory.

"Now, I ain't nervous," Graziano said. "The district attorney didn't make me nervous. The army didn't make me nervous. This is just a fight. It don't make me nervous."

Tillicums Hold Off Rally To Score First Boxla Win

The senior lacrosse league showed signs of tightening up last night as Arnie Ferguson's young Tillicums scored their first victory of the season by defeating J.B.A.A., 10 to 8.

The clubmen stopped the strong J.B.A.A. attack cold except for sharpshooting John Bamford who notched five goals and in the fourth period almost single-handedly pulled the Harry Sargison coached crew up by the bootstraps.

Tillicums took command of the game from the start and using a slow break to good advantage worked in close for many of their shots. The clubmen led 7 to 3 at the third period as Buzz Long was just as hot as the weather in the T.A.C.-goal.

As the sun went down the boys seemed to take a new lease on life and really opened up in the final period.

FAST SCORING

Bamford got his first of four goals in this period shortly after the start, beating Long cleanly. Bob Long replied for Tillicums on a pass from Ritchie. It was Bamford going through twice that cut Tillicums lead to 8 to 6 minutes later but Bourke got one back for the winners to give Tillicums a three-goal edge.

Bamford, however, wasn't through trying and he cut the lead once again with a beautiful solo rush. Norm Coates then found the hump behind Long and Tillicums lead had been shaved to one goal. Cory ended the scoring and cinched the game for the Tillicums just seconds from time. Coates and Bamford scored all the goals for J.B.A.A. while scoring was evenly divided for Tillicums with Bob Long, Harry Downe, Bourke and Cory each notching a pair.

Tomorrow night Jokers take on Tillicums at Stevenson Park at 6.45.

Teams and scorers follow: J.B.A.A.—Allen, Green, Reid, Pickford, Coates, Bamford, C. Cummings, Coates, J. Horne, O'Connell, Bradley and Whittier. T.A.C.—Long, Henderson, Leonard, Cory, 2, Lawrence, Bob Long, 2, Downe, 2, Booth, O. Bamford, Bourke, 2, Bruce, 1, Oakley, Ritchie and Shadrake, 1.

Found In A Woman's Room By Night, Man Is Sent To Trial

Lorraine E. Kirk was committed for trial in a higher court by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing on a charge of unlawfully being found in a dwelling-house by night, the room of Miss Olga Bugyra at 111 Cambridge Street in the early morning hours of May 30.

W. Berkeley Monteth, defence counsel, said accused had nothing to say at this time.

Detective Fearon, Woodburn said he attended at the house with Detective Norman Bath in response to a telephone call. They were met by a man and a woman. After entering Miss Bugyra's room, Det. Woodburn said Detective Bath opened a closet door with the remark: "Here he is."

Accused, said the witness, was behind some woman's clothing in the closet.

Detective Woodburn said that when accused was asked what he was doing in the room, he replied he had had some trouble at home and had come to have a talk with Miss Bugyra. Witness said accused was told it was an awful time of night to be visiting and the reply was: "I know her well."

WAS NOT DRUNK

Witness said a writing table drawer had been pulled out. Under cross-examination, Detective Woodburn said he smelled no liquor on accused's breath, but admitted while he could have had a few drinks he was not drunk.

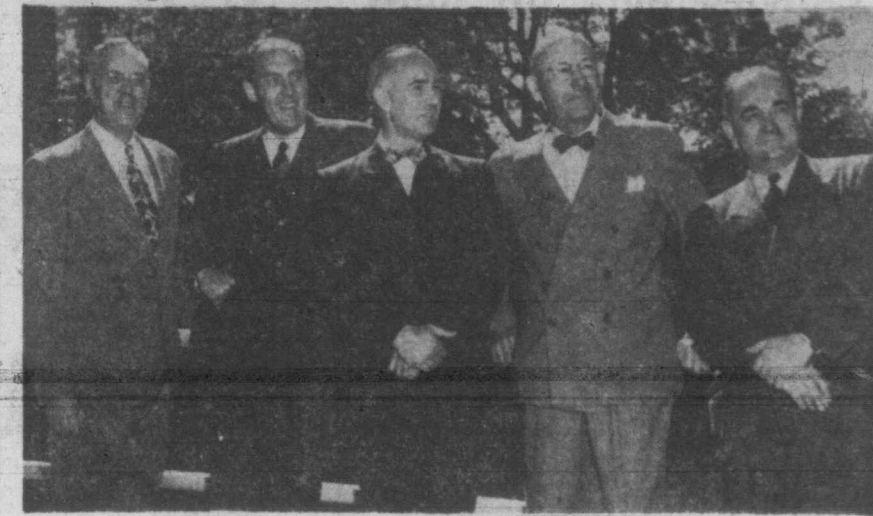

There was a short ladder outside the window leading to the room, he said.

In the witness box Miss Bugyra, manager of the Victoria Beauty and Barber Supply, 747 View Street, said she knew the defendant well enough to say "hello" or "good morning" to him from business dealings.

Witness said when she left the room the door was closed but not locked, the window open top and bottom. On her return later in the morning she found drawers had been gone through and suitcases were in different places from where she had left them.

She said accused, who operated a delivery service, had moved her things from 307 Vancouver Street on May 25 to the Cambridge address.

Washington Bankers At Convention Here

Two hundred members of the Washington Bankers' Association are expected to attend the organization's 52nd annual convention opening tomorrow at the Empress Hotel. Many of the delegates are accompanied by their wives and families.

W. M. Sellens, chairman, Pacific subsection of the Canadian Bankers' Association and manager of the Vancouver Imperial Bank of Canada, will welcome the delegates at the opening session at 9.45 in the lower lounge. Reno Odlin, president of the Puget Sound National Bank, Tacoma, will reply.

The bankers will hear the annual report from their president, Ira Camp, vice-president and cashier of the First State Bank, LaCrosse.

Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, Montreal, will address the meeting on "Powers in Partnership." A. L. Powers, vice-president of the United States National Bank, Portland, Oregon, will speak on "The Pacific Coast Banking School." Dr. George E. Taylor of the University of Washington, Seattle, will also address the delegates. Topic of his address will be "Policy and Propaganda."

On Friday the delegates will hear reports from E. G. Startup, treasurer, and Andrew Miller, executive secretary. Dunlap C. Clark, president of the Central Bank, Oakland, California, will address the association on "A Blueprint for Business Preparedness."

Also scheduled to speak is Howard T. Mitchell, president of the board of Trade, Vancouver, and W. A. B. Iliff, loan director of the International Bank of Reconstruction and Development.

The convention will end Friday with the election of officers. There will also be a reception at 6 p.m. in the lower lounge, followed by a dinner to be held in the Crystal Ballroom.

Fruit And Potatoes To Be Short In City

As city wholesalers have already expended most of their June quota of United States currency, there will be a shortage of oranges, grapefruit, lemons and new potatoes for the rest of the month.

Lemons have been worst hit. There will be none, one wholesaler said. Oranges will be in very limited quantity, but grapefruit supplies will be a little better.

Regular shipments of new potatoes will be brought in throughout the month but it is not expected there will be enough to satisfy the demand.

Local peas are now appearing on the market but local spinach is becoming scarce. Hothouse tomato prices, which had begun to drop, have now climbed back to the pre-flood level.

There are a few gooseberries on sale now.

Asparagus is being brought here in small air shipments from Kamloops and some cauliflower is still coming through from the mainland.

Turnips and onions are in good supply here.

Floods Predicted Early As April 1

He is not saying "I told you so" the way it is usually meant, but R. C. Farrow, provincial water controller, pointed out today his department predicted as far back as April 1, the floods which are devastating large sections of the province today.

He delved into his files and showed a report dated May 1 which read:

"The flood potential reported April 1 has been accentuated owing to lateness of spring, and lack of any thawing to date of the snow at higher elevations.

"This flood potential exists on most streams in the province and must be emphasized with respect to the Kootenay, Columbia, Thompson and Fraser Rivers and their tributaries, as well as on coastal streams.

"Protracted warm weather or warm rains could produce a flood hazard very quickly. Flood prevention agencies should, therefore, be on the alert!"

Mennonites Off For Paraguay June 25

MONTREAL (CP)—Officials of the Holland America Line (Canada) Ltd. said today a group of Mennonites who are leaving Canada for new homes in Paraguay will sail from Quebec City June 25 aboard the liner Volendam.

The Mennonites, totaling 1,500, are leaving their homes near Winnipeg, because of the encroachments of modern life on their religious beliefs.

To Enlarge Airfield

Enlarging of a department of transport airfield at Woodcock in the Cassiar district of B.C. is seen in the sale, approved by the provincial cabinet by order-in-council today, of 6.59 acres adjacent to the field to the federal government.

Weather Forecasts Indicate No Early Flood Area Relief

Officials of the water branch of the Provincial Department of Lands and Forests are keeping eyes glued on weather forecasts in the flooding of rivers and streams of the province for which they can see no relief for at least three days.

Maj. R. C. Farrow, water controller, said today that if temperatures drop in the interior tonight (and they have no reason to expect cooler weather) flood waters of the Fraser River will not subside until the end of the week.

Exceptionally warm weather is continuing to melt high snow on mountain ranges, and if the melting was halted by cooler temperatures, the water already gushing into the Fraser will take three days to reach Mission from Kamloops.

The water controller has ordered further snow surveys at key snow courses in the mountains, and the last survey made at the end of last week as compared with conditions May 1, showed:

MORE SNOW TO MELT
Snow had almost disappeared from elevations up to 4,000 feet;

from 70 and 80 per cent had gone from sections between 4,000 and 5,000 feet elevation; from 33 and 70 per cent between 5,000 to 6,000 feet; from 25 to 33 per cent between 6,000 and 7,000; 25 per cent or less above 7,000.

This indicates that between 65 and 75 per cent of the snow at elevations above 5,500 feet had yet to melt.

The water controller said similar conditions exist in the Kootenay and Columbia basins as in the Fraser area, except that rivers in the former areas may rise a little more than present levels of the Fraser.

The snow conditions, revealed in the survey, are not abnormal, Mr. Farrow said.

"The trouble is," he continued, "we had much more snow last winter than in previous years—half as much again in some areas as the normal fall—and the thaw started much later than in previous years. It has all come at once."

The controller predicted a serious shortage of water in the autumn because of the unusual thaw now.

Thermometer Hits 80 To Continue

Victorians are becoming used to the current spell of warm weather. They have thrown convention to the warm breezes along with topcoats and other unnecessary garments.

Cotton dresses for women and open-neck shirts for men seemed to be the regulation dress of the majority of persons seen in the downtown business district today. Children are wearing less.

Gardeners, especially those in Oak Bay and Saanich, where regulations permit watering only on certain days, are waiting rain, but others seem quite satisfied that the mercury stays around the 80-degree mark.

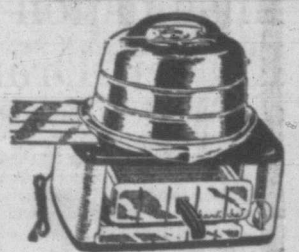

"Summer's here at last," one man noted. "Why shouldn't I be glad?"

The warm weather means good business for ice cream parlors and stores which sell soft drinks. Beaches are drawing good crowds and drug stores are making a good thing out of suntan ointments. Backslappers are having a field day, seeing which of their friends are burnt and which are not.

WILL CONTINUE

Forecasts from the weather office say the hot spell will continue. The temperature at noon today was 75 at the Dominion Meteorological Observatory on Gonzales Hill. Downtown, it was nearly 80.

Imagination And Color Enliven Drama Festival

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

Today's session of the Victoria Drama Festival was marked by a good deal of imagination and color, two out of the three pieces being costume plays with the enchanting qualities of allegory and fantasy.

Victoria High School auditorium held a small but keen audience, a fact to which the adjudicator, Miss Dorothy Somerset, referred when she observed that it was a great pity that more people had not seen the very artistic and enjoyable work done by these teams. She felt that the movement was thoroughly worthwhile and beneficial to the culture of the community and deserved the full support of all theatre-minded citizens. A plea for better lighting equipment and smoother-operating curtains were mentioned by the adjudicator.

"Diet Before Tomorrow" by Mary Kearns. Presented by Athena Club Dramatic Group under the direction of Mrs. M. Mulholland.

Cast: Ann Smith, Gertrude McLaughlin, Mary Mulholland, Lucy Richmond, Ruth Lewis, Jessie Fleming, Marie Blou, Ella Grier. Miss Somerset considered this a long skit rather than a play but said it was amusing and well constructed with plenty of scope for development on the part of director and cast. She hoped that this group would continue to work together and produce plays as they would, in that way, overcome their main difficulty, which was one of pace. A comedy must move fast but this team picked up cues too slowly and spoke in a slow tempo. Consequently there were many laughs in the play they did not get.

Miss Somerset pointed out that an actor must use all his senses and have a very lively imagination in order to make his audience use their senses also. In discussing the need for energy in acting, she clarified the difference between a relaxed actor, which is good and a slack one, which is bad. Vitality and more pace would have helped this team put their play over but they were promising and would learn by experience, the adjudicator said.

Of the cast, she liked "Lulu" very much. It is difficult to play a dorkie but this characterization was nice and the make-up exceptionally good.

ST. MARGARET'S

"Gray Bread" by Jean Latham. Presented by St. Margaret's Drama Club under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Hewitt.

Cast: Riga, Percia Wilkinson, Solida, Mary Letin, Yolande, Wendy Trumbo, Motka, Beverly Sanderson.

This play was based on characterization, said Miss Somerset. It had a universal theme—that of idealistic young love. The characterization was interesting but there was one crucial problem presented by the author in the climax. The sudden conversion of the young girl to reason and wisdom after a heart-breaking disappointment was unconvincing unless the actress playing the part was able to project sufficient depth of feeling. This "Yolande" had difficulty and consequently the climax didn't quite come off though she was sweet and pretty and acted well with the others.

The adjudicator complimented the set and lighting which she said was artistic. All through, movement and grouping were pretty good. There was a tendency toward a slight reciting quality in the voices at times but the director and cast understood the values of contrast and succeeded quite well in this respect. She felt that "Riga" might have kept her attention on the business of preparing and eating food rather than just sitting and talking. Riga had a good voice and sense of characterization and a nice feeling for tempo and pause. She is potentially a very clever actress. Miss Somerset considered her costume and make-up too youthful. "Solida" did one of the best jobs of teamwork in the play. She really listened to the other actors, moved well and had a good presence though the interpretation was not quite accurate. "Motka" was nice and natural and her concentration was good.

"Nix-Nought-Nothing" by Naimo Milholland. Presented by Provincial Normal School under the direction of Miss Marjorie Gordon.

Cast: The Wizard, Ken Weeks, The Queen, Ken Weir, Nix-Nought-Nothing, Mary Tait, The Commander-in-Chief, Richard Parsons, The Chief Cook, Frank Jarvis, Mary, Beverly Fisher, The Foreign Princess, Helena Derman.

This fantasy was sheer creative theatre, artistically exciting and Miss Somerset declared herself really moved by it. She felt that the musical interpretation of the play was a splendid step toward a development of this theatre form. Boyce Gaddes, who composed the original music, was warmly congratulated and urged to extend and enlarge upon it. It had exactly the right quality and aided tremendously in creating and sustaining the atmosphere of the presentation.

Miss Somerset called the scenery "utterly delightful" and regretted that all but one or two scenes had been spoiled by the lighting, due, she felt, to insufficient equipment. Lighting, she said, must be fluid and should serve to blend the music, action, speech and scenery. The "Wizard" was excellent. Good gesture and voice all through; a well sustained part, distinctly characterized and he got his thoughts across very clearly. The "King's" song was delightful; he sang it with a pleasing voice and had a nice presence. He was particularly good in the banquet scene where he displayed a nice sense of humor.

"Nix-Nought-Nothing" was an other actor who listens well to others on the stage and had a pleasing personality. "Mary" was charming, both to look at and listen to. The words of her song were not clear but she was an excellent actress and made the part really alive. The "Cook" had a nice sense of enthusiasm for food but the part should have been more stylized and Miss Somerset considered the "Commander-in-Chief" needed to be more stylized and have a finer military bearing although he got his comedy lines over well.

Master Barry Turner, talented 12-year-old pianist, gave several piano solos.

TOMORROW'S PROGRAM
Tomorrow night's program at the High School will commence at 8 o'clock and will consist of North Saanich High School's presentation of the Mexican folk play, "The Red Velvet Coat"; "Confession" by the Lantville Players and Sir James Barrie's "Roseland" by the Civic Theatre Guild.

Pet Monkey Escapes On Duncan Street

DUNCAN — Shoppers were startled while walking along Canada Avenue here when a pet Rhesus monkey skipped out of the hands of its owner. Mrs. Laura Keefe, and scurried along the street.

It hopped up the steps toward the verandah of the Tzouhalem Hotel, but tired of efforts of persons to cajole it back into captivity and climbed up a roof near the Canadian Legion Hall. Mrs. Keefe remembered her pet's fondness for riding in cars and brought her machine downtown and parked it. Soon the monkey came down and got into the car.

Citizens' Papers Taken Out By 11,972 Canadians

OTTAWA (CP) — State Secretary Gibson told the Commons Tuesday 11,972 native Canadians had taken out the citizenship certificates in the 1947-48 fiscal year under the government's new citizenship program.

At the same time, 2,102 certificates had been issued to previously-naturalized Canadians. He was replying to a question from John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., who suggested departmental enthusiasm in the scheme was waning.

The minister said enthusiasm

Esquimalt Building Up Over Last Year

Building permits issued in Esquimalt during the first five months of this year show an increase of $50,000 over the total amount of permits issued during the same period last year. E. Fulcher, municipal engineer, informed the Esquimalt Council at a meeting Tuesday night.

Total value of permits issued during May amounted to $78,855, bringing the five-month total to $345,230.

From Jan. 1 to May 31, 1947, building permits amounted to $254,695, he said.

had not lessened "in the slightest degree."

Suggests Part Of Old Age Pension Be Paid Earlier

HAMILTON (CP) — A partial pension earlier than at the old age pension age was suggested Tuesday to the public welfare division of the Canadian Welfare Council by J. I. Chambers, director of Welfare for Vancouver.

He said this would permit the older persons to contribute to society for a longer period.

The division saw a cross-country picture of Canada's old age problems during the day — the final session of the C.W.C.'s annual meeting. Attending were representatives of provincial and municipal welfare departments from coast to coast, as well as delegates to the Canadian Conference on Social Work.

In Mr. Chambers' opinion the government would have to subsidize all housing units — "and soon." He said old age pensioners found it "completely" impossible to pay for housing accommodations from their benefits.

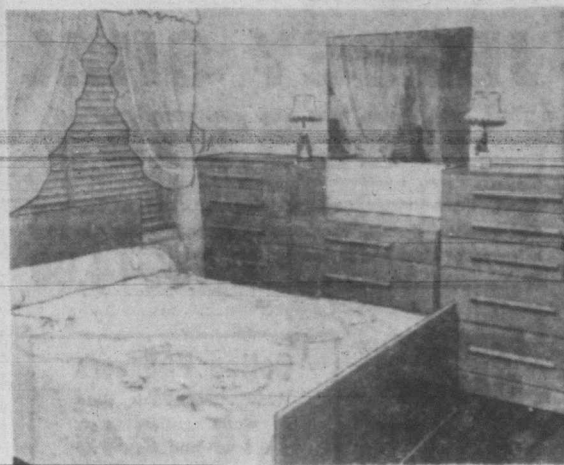

David Chalmers of Regina noted that in his province all old age pensioners were entitled to free medical services.

The difficulty of older persons in obtaining employment was dealt with by John Morgan of the Toronto School of Social Work.

Tomorrow's Bedroom Today

The "New Functional" bedroom furniture is shown in the above picture, as introduced and featured by Humber's Furniture Warehouse. This new idea enables the housewife to so arrange the individual pieces to give her the maximum drawer space, and in this particular picture 13 spacious drawers are available. The finish is exciting, too, "Lined Oak" which seems to make the smaller bedroom larger, as well as harmonizing better with her other things. This "New Functional" looks much more expensive than it is, in fact, is now within the reach of the average purse.

Flood Rehabilitation Costs To Be Shared By Dominion With B.C.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King announced Tuesday night a joint arrangement between the federal and British Columbia governments to finance the relief and rehabilitation of flood areas in the coastal province.

Outcome of conferences here this week between Premier Johnson of B.C. and federal cabinet ministers, the arrangement is as follows:

1. The two governments will divide the costs of temporary emergency relief equally.

2. The federal government will bear 75 per cent of the costs of emergency measures already taken or being taken for the strengthening of dikes and their eventual reconstruction, and for the restoration of their protected lands by the pumping out of flood waters.

3. Cost of eventual rehabilitation of the affected areas will be settled by a later agreement between the two governments on the basis of a report from the Fraser Valley Relief and Rehabilitation Commission.

The arrangement provides that in calculating the federal government's share of the cost of emergency relief and dike restoration, account will be taken of the amount spent by the Dominion in providing services and supplies and through employment of the armed services in the flood period.

Mr. King said the two governments had directed their representatives not to permit the working out of detailed arrangements to delay action on emergency relief or on dike repair.

Premier Johnson, who plans to return to B.C. Friday, issued a concurrent statement expressing his gratification.

WHOLEHEARTED AID

"The co-operation British Columbia has received from the federal authorities has been wholehearted," he said. "The arrangement now made will enable work to be proceeded with the moment the flood waters have receded."

He said the arrangement meant municipal authorities and diking areas, which had been hit badly, would not be asked to contribute

Welfare Head Says Strappings Good For Some Children

EDMONTON (CP)—Welfare Superintendent Charles B. Hill believes the strap "may do good if applied to that part of the anatomy provided for the purpose."

Strappings, distinct from floggings, were an accepted practice in child raising.

The dissertation on discipline was part of a protracted cross-examination of Mr. Hill by E. D. Arnold, counsel for the Calgary Herald. A provincially-appointed royal commission of three judges is inquiring into Alberta's child welfare conditions.

The hearing, begun last November, was resumed Tuesday after a 10-day adjournment through illness of the chairman, Chief Justice W. R. Howson of Alberta.

The commission was set up to investigate allegations of malpractice by Mr. Hill's department—statements in a report published by the Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, after a survey by Dr. Charlotte Whitton of Ottawa, a welfare authority.

Mr. Hill had been asked for his views on corporal punishment.

Talk about children being beaten "was news" to him, Mr. Hill said, but strappings were administered if ordered by court authorities.

SEES CAMOUFLAGE

Pictures the Calgary Herald published purporting to show Edmonton's south-side detention home reminded him of Acatraz, he said. They were "much camouflaged."

Mr. Arnold asked what Mr. Hill felt would be the effect on a boy 10 to 12 years of age if locked in a cage.

The superintendent answered that only in extreme cases had boys been placed in such cells. He would not give an opinion to the effect it would have on a lad. The theory had been to show a child what he was in for in later life unless he changed his ways.

"What would happen to a parent who looked up his child in an iron cage?"

Mr. Hill said doubtless lots of parents felt like having their children locked on occasions.

Anyway, "substantial changes" had been made in the Edmonton institution since the royal commission's hearing had begun.

The boys had been placed on an honor system and a new attendant had been appointed.

Leaves Money To Buy Apples For Schools

OTTAWA (CP)—The old school tie was strong with Alban Tracey, Ottawa architect who died here May 28. His will made public Tuesday disclosed a trust fund of $1,000 to be used to provide a hamper of No. 1 Mackintosh apples each Hallowe'en and Christmas for children of No. 2 Public School at South March, Ont., 16 miles west of here. Remainder of the fund will be for proficiency prizes at the school.

Veterans' Preference By-Passed, M.P.'s Hear

OTTAWA (CP)—A contention that attempts to bypass preference in civil service employment for overseas veterans are "becoming too prevalent" was aired

Tuesday before the Commons committee on veterans' affairs. It came from C. H. Hope, vice-president of the Dominion Civil Servants' War Veterans Association. He said 8,000 of the 40,000 veterans in the civil service are members of the body.

Mr. Hope, in a brief, asked that the statutory provisions for job preference be "strictly adhered to" and be extended to cover all government employment, including boards and crown companies. He asked that all hiring be done through civil service commission.

Credit Buying Higher This Year, Meeting Told

BANFF, Alta. (CP)—Customers are buying more goods on credit today than they did a year ago, it was revealed at a forum held by the department store and wearing apparel group conference of the National Retail Credit Association.

The forum followed addresses before more than 1,000 international credit conference delegates Tuesday by W. H. Baldwin of New York, vice-president of the General Motors Acceptance Corporation, and Capt. A. A. Nicholson of New York, assistant to the vice-president of the Texas Company.

General conference sessions continued today, with Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta as a guest speaker.

Delegates said collection percentage of outstanding accounts has shown a tendency to decline in recent months. They also said credit customers now constitute about 50 per cent of those who buyer establishes a record with the firm that makes him a well-known and valued customer.

VOLUNTARY CONTROL

Mr. Baldwin warned delegates attending the five-day gathering at Banff Springs Hotel that prevention of consumer credit excesses lies in voluntary control by credit men rather than by government control.

"If we in consumer credit are to enjoy continued economic freedom in conducting our affairs, we must exercise the responsibility that goes with that freedom," he said. "We have this choice, either to make voluntary controls work or take the alternative of compulsory controls. Such decisions will not be just for stable consumer credit, but for overall economic stability."

Bank Robber Sent To Jail For 7 Years

WINNIPEG (CP)—Alexander Porozuk, 38, was sentenced Tuesday to seven years in Stony Mountain penitentiary after pleading guilty to a charge of breaking and theft in the $257,949 robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada's Main Street branch here last October.

The trial of Michael Stefanik, jointly charged with Porozuk, began before an assize court jury immediately after Mr. Justice P.

J. Montague had passed sentence on Porozuk.

Porozuk changed his plea before his trial began, and Crown counsel consented to a stay of proceedings on two counts of receiving stolen goods.

With 89 Crown witnesses to be called for Stefanik's trial, it is expected nearly a week will be taken up with the identification of bonds and valuables stolen from the bank's safety deposit boxes.

SOOKE—Dr. C. L. Hunt, acting director of the Saanich Health Unit, and Miss E. Vrvold, R.N., will give free physical examinations to all children eligible to attend Sooke Elementary School in September.

Mothers are requested to bring their children to the school Thursday afternoon.

Latest publicity stunt may find Red Skelton being "elected" to the board of directors of the Fuller Brush Company. To plug "The Fuller Brush Man," of course.

FLOOD EMERGENCY RELIEF

Here's a guide for setting up a Payroll Deduction Plan:

1. On your next pay day deduct the amounts pledged from your payroll and deposit the total collection in your own bank or trust company to the credit of the B.C. FLOOD EMERGENCY FUND.
2. Prepare in triplicate a list of the name and individual contribution of each donor. Retain one copy and give two copies to the bank or trust company with your deposit.
3. The bank or trust company will issue a receipt for the total amount.
4. Individual receipt forms are being designed by the Flood Fund Committee. When you receive them, prepare individual receipts for each employee.
5. Send these receipts to the bank or trust company to be stamped as official receipts. They will be returned for distribution to the individual employees.
